Jabs for 12-14 age group from Wed

Everyone over 60 years can get booster doses as the Centre expands vaccination drive

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE wait is over for those in the 12-14 age group to get the first dose of Covid vaccine as the Centre on Monday said it will expand the vaccination drive to include them from March 16.

Also, from Wednesday, everyone over 60 years of age can take a booster dose. Until now, it was restricted to frontline and healthcare workers and those above 60, who have comorbidities.

"The Union government after due deliberations with scientific bodies has decided to start Covid-19 vaccination for 12-13 year and 13-14 year age groups (those born in 2008, 2009 and 2010 i.e those who are already above 12 years of age) of the population from March 16, 2022," the Union health ministry said in a statement.

Union Health Minister Dr Mansukh Mandaviya tweeted saying, "If children are safe then the country is safe".

Those in the new age group will be given Corbevax, which is India's first indigenously-developed Receptor Binding Domain (RBD) protein subunit vaccine. Corbevax, made by Hyderabad-based Biological E, was granted emergency use authorisation for use on the 12-18 age group on February 21.

According to official sources, there are around 7.11 crore children in the new age group.

The government started vaccinating teens in the 15-17 age group on January 3. As of now, they are being given Bharat Biotech's Covaxin. So far, 5.58 crore children in this age group have received the first dose of a Covid vaccine, while 3.38 crore has gotten the second shot.

The decision to expand vaccination comes as schools across the country are re-opening amid a decline in Covid cases. India recorded 2,503 new cases in the last 24 hours, the lowest in 680 days. P3

Peace talks to continue amid spiralling attacks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

EVEN as peace talks were underway, Russia on Monday bombed a residential apartment in Kyiv, killing one and injuring at least a dozen people. The Ukrainian capital city, which is bracing for a major offensive by Russian ground forces, on Monday reported some of the worst attacks since the start of the conflict on February 24.

Apart from flattening a residential building in the northern part of the city, Russia attacked an airplane factory, which sparked a huge fire killing two and hurting seven.

In the country's second-largest city of Kharkiv, two people died when Russian troops fired artillery at a residential street, local authorities said. In the western city of Rivne, nine people were killed in an air strike on a TV tower. Meanwhile, Russia accused Ukrainian forces of killing at least 23 people in the separatist stronghold of Donetsk. In a sign that the war could become a protracted one, Moscow said it was considering a full-scale assault on large cities.

A Kremlin spokesman said Russian forces have so far held off on a full-scale onslaught on large cities "because the civilian losses would be large". He added Moscow "does not rule out the possibility of putting large cities under its full control". The day began on a slightly positive note with Ukrainian president Volodymyr Zelenskyy expressing hope that a diplomatic breakthrough might be achieved in the fourth round of talks was to begin. However, the talks for the day ended without any headway. Negotiators will now meet on Tuesday for further discussions.

There was some positive news from Mariupol as well. More than 160 cars carrying civilians have been able to drive out of the besieged city to Zaporizhzhia, where fighting has been less intense. The successful evacuation, amid ceasefire, comes after several failed attempts since Russian forces surrounded the port city. However, several thousands still remain there and the UN has warned that time is running out. P12

BWSSB mess: Youth hits pothole, dies in Bengaluru

FAILURE to bring all civic agencies under one umbrella to ensure coordination cost the life of a 27-year-old youth on MS Palya Road in Yelahanka zone on Sunday night. The tragedy, which could have been avoided had there been effective coordination between civic agencies while carrying out road and sanitation works, left the mother of Ashwin M all alone as he was her only son and her husband had passed away a few years ago.

Yelahanka Zonal Joint Commissioner PV Poornima said BWSSB had improperly done drain cleaning and repair work on the recently relaid MS Palya Road and had left a manhole partly open, from where drain water was seeping out. P2

BBMP BUDGET WILL BE CUT BY ₹1K-2K CRORE

No new projects, focus will be on maintenance, completing pending works

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) budget will be cut to size and made more practical for the coming year -- the trim is likely to be in the range of Rs 1,000-2,000 crore compared to last year's budget.

The focus of the budget will be on completing pending projects and undertaking maintenance works, rather than announcing new schemes. This change in approach is not only due to the Palike's poor image and heavy loans, but because BBMP officials have to keep in mind the Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Rules 2021, and practical issues before them.

"Due to the pandemic, we realised that putting out a huge budget outlay will become practically difficult to execute. So we are now focusing on creating a budget outlay of around Rs 8,000 crore or less, which is manageable, so there are no loans in hand at the end of the financial year," sources in the BBMP told TNIE.

BBMP has also started listing out its priority sectors for the year. "The pandemic has made us realise where we lag, so importance will be given to health and education this time. The focus will be on completing announced and ongoing projects. Also, since many schemes have been announced under Smart City and Nagarothana schemes, no new projects will be undertaken. Importance will also be given to maintenance works, payment of salaries and dues," a source said.

The absence of a council is also giving the budget a more practical touch. Since there are no corporators, there are no demands for funds for wards.

In 2021-22, the budget outlay was Rs 9,287.81 crore, while in 2020-21, the initial budget outlay was Rs 10,899.84 crore. After discussions with councillors, it was increased to Rs 11,969.50 crore and when tabled for approval, the government cut it down by Rs 254 core and approved a budget of Rs 11,715.2 crore. Similarly, councillors had sought an additional outlay of Rs 1,886.14 crore in 2019-20.

"The officials are trying to clean up the image of BBMP and bring in a sense of discipline. There are many instances where bills being forged have been noted. With everything being digitised, there is a need to ensure things are cleaned up," a senior BBMP official said.

43 officers to oversee water needs

Bengaluru: The Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has appointed nodal officers for each of its 43 sub-divisions, said its chairman N Jayaram. This was one of the steps being taken to manage water needs of the city during the summer. Chief Engineer (maintenance), BWSSB, Devaraj said, "The job of each of these officers will be to ensure equitable distribution of water across all sub-divisions." ENS

India's first digital water bank sets up shop in city

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

INDIA, and possibly the world, got its first digital water bank, an initiative to aggregate water resources under a single platform, on Monday.

Science and Technology Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan, who inaugurated the water bank in Bengaluru, extended the state government's full support for the initiative, undertaken by AquaKraft Ventures, a company that specialises in sustainable initiatives to provide drinking water and sanitation to all.

The minister said, "The initiative is a holistic and sustainable approach towards finding a much-needed solution to a crisis which not only India but the world is staring at. We welcome this initiative wholeheartedly and will extend all support to make this a unicorn of sustainability and impact."

The digital waterbank, interestingly, will be based on blockchain technology, according to AquaKraft founder and CEO Dr Subramanya Kusnur. "One of the key problems we've been facing, especially as an agrarian country, is the depletion of groundwater level in rural areas. The lack of water is leading to numerous challenges for farmers, resulting in suicides and other issues," he said.

The waterbank, Kusnur said, will be open to all, where users can create an account and report the amount of surplus water they have as savings. The surplus water will be converted into a token that will go on the blockchain. Similar to the stock market, the value of the token will increase depending on the demand and supply.

Further, the initiative will also include the formation of a digital university, the Centre for Innovation, Sustainability & Social Entrepreneurship, to undertake skill building initiatives across the country in rural areas.

K-RERA constitutes six benches for pending cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Real Estate Regulatory Authority (K-RERA) has constituted six additional benches to deal with pending cases, it announced on Monday. The decision was taken after a internal meeting by K-RERA on February 14.

This comes as a boon for home buyers as numerous cases have been pending since the authority's formation in 2017.

As per a notification, the Supreme Court had clarified the extent of jurisdiction of the adjudicating officer working under the authority as well as whether the authority has the power to constitute benches under the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016.

Citing an order issued by the Supreme Court on November 11, 2021, the authority said that the benches will deal with a large number of pending cases.

Following this, around 2,000 files have been transferred to the authority that were due to be heard by the adjudicating officer. In addition, the authority has been directed to hear cases that were disposed of by the officer that had come under the authority.

MLAs want more sub-registrar offices

Bengaluru: With a boom in real estate outside Bengaluru, pressure on registration of new layouts and sites has increased, inconveniencing farmers. Legislators demanded new sub-registrar offices outside Bengaluru, and also discussed issues related to sub-registrar offices. Magadi MLA A Manjunath said the registration boom is forcing farmers to wait for weeks together to get their mortgage loans, which at times are delayed by a month. Revenue Minister R Ashoka said officials sub-registrar offices at Devanahalli and other places are under pressure, and assured Manjunath that new offices will be opened after discussions with the CM. ENS

Of that, 195 acres was encroached prior to 1978 and 2,746 acres in 918 cases after 1978. ENS

Road was perfect before it was dug up, says BBMP chief

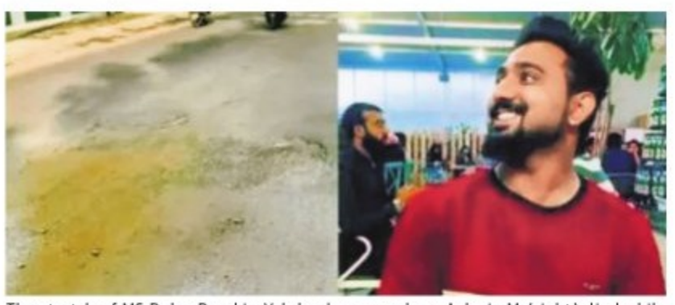
THE seepage had created a pit around the manhole, which Ashwin failed to notice while riding his bike. He slipped and fell after he rode his two-wheeler into the pit which had no barricades or signs to warn motorists. His head struck the ground hard and he succumbed to head injuries while being taken to a hospital. Eyewitnesses said he was not wearing a helmet

No ambulance came to the spot even after repeated calls and a local resident finally put Ashwin in his car and rushed him to a nearby hospital. But the delay in the arrival of the ambulance proved costly.

Ashwin's shocked and grief-stricken mother filed a complaint with the Yelahanka Traffic police, who registered FIRs against BWSSB and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). The police also issued notices to officials concerned asking them to appear for investigation.

The police said that Ashwin, who hailed from Haveri, resided at Vaderahalli and worked in the accounts department of a software company, was on his way to buy food when he hit the pothole around 9.30 pm.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said he had inspected the road works in the constituency just a few days ago and MS Palya Road and other stretches were in good condition. He has ordered Yelahanka BBMP zonal officials to file complaints and initiate criminal action against those responsible for Ashwin's death.



The stretch of MS Palya Road in Yelahanka zone where Ashwin M (right) died while riding his two-wheeler

A police inquiry will also be taken up and based on the report, the next course of action will be decided, he added.

He said that in the recent past, five cases have been filed against BWSSB for damaging roads and taking up works without informing BBMP.

Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) Chairman and Yelahanka zone MLA SR Vishwanath announced that a 20x30 site will be given to Ashwin's mother at Vaderahalli.

BDA and BBMP officials said the compensation amount to be paid to Ashwin's mother will be discussed and announced by the state government.

LACK OF COORDINATION

Two months ago when Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai promised to review Bengaluru development and announced allocation of mega funds for the city's infrastructure, experts and officials had pointed to the glaring lack of coordination between government agencies and called for better management.

Experts said civic agencies worked in complete ignorance of each others' plans, leading to newly laid roads by one agency being dug up by another.

All repairs required for a road can be listed and agencies concerned can work in a coordinated manner to ensure safety and convenience of citizens, they added.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

15th March : You may have heard the latest news about our search for life on other planets – ones around other stars, that is. Well, we are aware of a few planets which are known to have water, an essential constituent for life as we know it. The closest is 150 million light years away and the water is boiling, so not exactly welcoming, but it's a start!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There's little in the way of short-term planetary aspects these days, but much happening in the way of long-term trends. Therefore, you may expect a long-running domestic saga to reach a turning point. As from today your new emotional cycle encourages partners to take responsibility.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If you track the ups and downs in your moods, you'll realise that you are moving from a period of optimism and faith to one of practical commonsense. It may therefore be time to start making concrete plans. However, many of your choices over the next few weeks will be dropped or amended before long.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Mercury, planet of the mind, is currently of little help to most people, but is a powerful support for you. You can therefore be sure that your advances will not be rebuffed, and that your romantic wishes will be granted. The final results, though, may not be what you expect.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There seems little question that you are going through a restless phase, and you may be looking to other people to satisfy your need for variety. However, partners may turn to you for support. At work, it is who you know that counts, so you may cultivate people in authority.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Astrology is all about choices, and right now you must decide between a course of blatant self-interest and a path of self-sacrifice and service to others. Search out the middle way and don't get too het up. Mars' changing motion signifies more relaxed conditions, so enjoy a brief breathing space.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
As the Sun feels Mars' relentless emotional intensity over the coming two weeks, you will approach a break with the past, possibly severing one particular involvement. You may act now to shape the future to your needs or risk being taken over by fate during the coming few months.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
On the surface, you can be so charming, and everything seems to be going so well. But life is never that straightforward, and you must accept that, in part, you are driven by irritation or resentment about the past. Your naturally gracious manners will stand you in good stead in coming discussions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The emphasis is on the lighter side of life, which should come as a relief. You can afford to push dull routine to one side and get on with enjoyable matters. Serious discussions are in the pipeline, though, and the next week's invitations will help change your long-term direction.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
If it's prestige that you want, you must know that you will earn the respect of your peers and colleagues through following a fairly traditional path. Having established your position, you must now consolidate your achievements and decide whether you are going to stick with a long-term tie, or break it for good.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Beneficial travel stars are continuing. If anything, the current planetary influences are more helpful for global connections and adventurous journeys than those which have dominated your chart so often over recent months. Hopefully, changing circumstances will permit you to have a break.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You could hardly hope for better planetary allies than Mercury and Venus if romantic life and entertaining are on the agenda, but only if you are prepared to put in the extra effort. It seems very likely that the most significant social news could come from abroad. You'll be broadening your horizons and deepening your desires.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The accent is so firmly on your social life that anything else will come as an irritating distraction. If at all possible, try to keep professional obligations and family commitments to a minimum, otherwise complexities and complications will multiply over the next week.

Beware the Koko app! Scamsters credit cash, demand twice in return

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

WHILE cyber crime is on the rise in India, the Karnataka Cyber Crime Branch asks victims to file complaints immediately, but there is little action taken against scammers.

One such scam is the Koko Loan App, available on Google Play Store. Though the app has been flooded with positive reviews and sits on a 4.9 rating, there are several complaints that it's an organised scam. "I downloaded the app because I needed some money, I had previously used similar loan apps, so I uploaded relevant documents and my bank details. They offered me Rs 7,000, much less than what I wanted," said Sachin Gowda, a resident of Bengaluru.

Soon after, around Rs 4,000 was credited into Sachin's bank account. A week later, according to Sachin, he started receiving messages from multiple numbers, posing as representatives of the app, asking him to pay the loan back. "They started sending me links to UPI IDs that did not work and asked me to pay back Rs 7,000 after just six days," he said. It was almost twice the amount credited.

Following his refusal, the representatives started blackmailing him. "I paid the money immediately since I didn't want them to harass my women contacts," he said. However, the representatives immediately demanded that he pay the amount again.

Chandana P, a former Bengaluru resident, faced the same issue. "I downloaded the app to check my loan eligibility, but they credited Rs 4,640 into my account. I visited my bank, but they could not give me any details on who credited the amount, since it was done through netbanking. Four days later, I started getting calls by multiple numbers to pay back Rs 8,000," said Chandana. She alleged that the scamsters sent her pictures from her gallery and threatened to create a WhatsApp group with her contacts and send them her details.

The app has many negative reviews too, which tell the same story of money being credited without consent, and demands to pay double the amount. However, despite both Chandana and Sachin filing complaints separately, no action has been taken yet. "The Cyber Crime Branch transferred my complaint to the local police station in Bhadravati, but they only told me to ignore the messages," said Chandana. She had downloaded the app on February 19 and to date, she receives messages from representatives.

With no response from police despite filing a complaint on February 14, Sachin changed his number and is now left alone.

Bharath Kumar, sub-inspector at Bhadravati Old Town Station, where Chandana's complaint was transferred, said it was difficult to track the people behind the case as they were based in New Delhi.

CORBEVAX SUPPLIES AWAITED TO START JABS FOR CHILDREN

ENS @Bengaluru

WITH the Union health ministry on Monday announcing that vaccination for children aged 12-14 years will start from March 16, the state health department is awaiting the official order and supplies of vaccine. Children in this age bracket will be administered Corbevax, manufactured by Biological E. Limited, Hyderabad, a ministry circular said. However, teenagers in the 14-18 age group were administered Covaxin.

BBMP and health department officials said Corbevax is not available as yet, and vaccination can be started only when sufficient stocks are available for at least 50 per cent of the population. "All vaccine stocks are supplied by the Central and state governments. Once the government order is issued and supply schedule is given, the next course of action be decided," Health Commissioner D Randeep told TNIE.

There are around 5 lakh children aged 12-14 in Bengaluru, and 31 lakh across the state, who need to be administered the vaccine.

Health officials, doctors and parents are worried about handling the vaccine, as they have so far handled side-effects and concerns pertaining only to Covishield and Covaxin. "Though it is an injection and trials have been done, the results and product details have not been shared with us," an official said.

The timing of the announcement is also a matter of concern as final examinations have started, or are about to start, in many schools, following which summer vacations will start. So getting the beneficiaries on one platform and meeting targets will become a challenge, the official admitted.

Cases down, but Covid contracts not to be scrapped

Bengaluru: With many contracts given for Covid-19 management and staffers in the war room coming to an end, BBMP officials are holding meetings with the government and health department on restoring as many as possible, as experts have predicted a rise in cases in May and June. BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said services of many agencies were hired during the onset and peak of the pandemic. With cases dipping, the number of staffers has also reduced, but services will not be dispensed with altogether.

IN THE HOUSE

'Mining of precious stones rampant'

Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary told the Council that the State Government suspended two officials for failing to take action against those involved in illegal mining of precious stones in Kodagu. Areas, where the precious stones are found, are fenced and CCTV cameras are installed and action will be taken against all those involved in such illegal mining, he said. MLC Veena Achaiah said though illegal mining of precious stones is rampant, the government has not taken any action except suspending two guards and arresting two persons. "Illegal mining is going on since 15 years," the MLA added.

'Will revive Good Samaritan award'

Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar informed the Council that the Mukhyamantrigala Santwana-Harish Scheme to give immediate medical treatment for victims of road accidents was merged with Arogya Karnataka and it was later merged with Ayushman Bharat-Arogya Karnataka (ABARK) scheme. Under the Mukhyamantrigala Santwana-Harish Scheme, up to 2018, the government has given awards to 26 persons for saving the lives of accident victims. Sudhakar said they will consider MLC UB Venkatesh's suggestion.

'Regularise services of pourakarmikas'

Members of Legislative Assembly, cutting across party lines, including Opposition leader Siddaramaiah, demanded that the State Government regularise the services of pourakarmikas working in various departments, including urban and rural development and panchayats. In his reply, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai assured the House that he will discuss the matter with the Finance Department and arrive at a decision.Siddaramiah said pourak-armikas had recently staged a protest in Bengaluru demanding that their jobs be regularised. "They are the people who keep our cities and villages clean. When I was the Chief Minister, I had increased their monthly honorarium to Rs 17,000. In Bengaluru, there are more than 18,000 pourakarmikas and there are no legal hurdles to regularising their jobs. If they get pension after retirement, they can lead a better life," the former Chief Minister said.
To this, Kudachi MLA P Rajeev (BJP) said that when the jury wanted to select a pourakarmika for the Rajyotsava Award, they could not find any pourak-armika who was aged above 60. "This is the status of their health... their average life span in 45-50 years," he added.

POWERFUL LOBBY BEHIND ONLINE GAMBLING INDUSTRY, CLAIMS CM

Rues striking down of law by High Court, says govt had done enough groundwork

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday expressed helplessness in implementing a stringent law to ban online gambling in the state, pointing out that the Karnataka High Court had initially ordered a stay and had later struck it down. "There is a lobby behind this. We had done our groundwork and made laws," he said. The CM also noted that if the police conduct raids and arrest the culprits, they come out on bail by evening.

The Karnataka Police (Amendment) Act, 2021, was passed by the legislature in September 2021, banning online games. The amendment came into effect from October 5, 2021. The same month, the All-India Gaming Federation moved the Karnataka High Court, challenging the validity of the amendment prohibiting and criminalising playing games of skill, including online games, by risking money or otherwise. In February this year, the High Court struck down certain amendments made by the State Government. During the debate on the budget, former Speaker and senior Congress leader K R Ramesh Kumar expressed concern over betting during IPL cricket matches and said it was going out of control

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai speaks in the Assembly in Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on Monday | EXPRESS

Bommai said his government had brought in a stringent law last year to curb the online gambling menace, but the high court had struck it down. He pointed out that before framing a draft for a comprehensive law, they had studied similar laws in other states to ensure that there were no loopholes. But online gambling could neither be controlled in those states nor in Karnataka. This shows how powerful the people behind online gambling are, he remarked.

Online gambling could neither be controlled in those states nor in Karnataka. This shows how powerful the people behind online gambling are

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

Bommai also mentioned that many people had tried to stop him from bringing such a law, but he was not deterred. "I have seen families getting ruined due to betting and gambling. An online gaming operator went to the extent of offering to provide free Covid-19 vaccines to one lakh people in Shiggaon Assembly constituency which he represents, Bommai said. "I was determined to implement the law. It is money made illegally," he maintained.

Referring to his tenure as Home Minister, Bommai said gambling was made a cognizable offence and punishment was increased from three in jail to five years, so that there is fear among people. "But sadly, the accused who were arrested would get bail the same evening. Most social clubs conduct gambling illegally," he said.

State pitches for school repair under NREGA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the State Government has asked the Central Government to include repair and construction of school buildings under the National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (NREGA).

Speaking after inaugurating the 'NREGA Habba' here on Monday, Bommai advocated for the extension of the scope of the NREGA programme. "I have provided Rs 50 crore to take up construction of 1,000 anganwadis in the budget. We have also asked the Centre to include repair and construction of school buildings under the programme. If the Centre gives its nod, rural people will get more work and the government can take up repair and construction of classrooms in a big way," he said. He said the state was ahead compared to other states in the implementation of the programme. "NREGA is a weapon that will play an important role in the eradication of poverty. It is helping in strengthening the economy. Hence, 'NREGA Habba' is a state festival and it should be celebrated in every village to encourage panchayats to work more vigorously," he said.

Stressing on the importance of decentralisation, the CM said the administration will freeze if power is not decentralised. "Decentralisation of power should be like honey. Once allowed to flow from Vidhana Soudha, it should directly reach the beneficiary. Political decentralisation has happened, administrative decentralisation has also been a reality to some extent, but we need financial autonomy which is essential for development," he added.

4K teachers fined for faulty evaluation

The State Government has imposed a fine of Rs 51.26 lakh on 4,317 teachers for inadequate evaluation of SSLC answer papers of exams conducted in July and September 2020. Primary and Secondary Education Minister BC Nagesh told the Council that Rs 51,26,600 fine was imposed on teachers for inadequate evaluation based on differences in marks during the evaluation and reevaluation of the papers. Of them, only Rs 10,56,400 has been recovered from the teachers. He said the process was delayed as schools were closed owing to the Covid-19 pandemic. He said head masters have been directed to collect fines from teachers in their schools and a district-wise list of pending fines has also been given to deputy directors in the districts to take measures to recover the fines, Nagesh said responding to a question by MLC N Ravi Kumar.

Govt mulling cut in medical course fee

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MEDICAL Education and Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Monday said the government is seriously deliberating on reducing medical education fee, and also helping medical students who returned from Ukraine due to the war.

Responding to discussions on the need to urgently bring back Naveen Gyanagoudar's body from Ukraine, and help students who returned to India, the minister said the government is thinking about how to reduce medical education fee. Sudhakar said Prime Minister Narendra Modi has already discussed it with the National Medical Commission, and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai also held a meeting with senior officers on how they can help students who returned from Ukraine.

Sudhakar said the Central government's efforts helped bring back Indian students safely, besides students from other countries, who held up the Indian flag while leaving Ukraine.

Legislative Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti and members urged the government to take steps to bring back Naveen's body at the earliest.

UT Khader's remarks on hijab row create uproar in Assembly

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state Assembly witnessed uproarious scenes on Monday when Congress leader UT Khader alleged that protests and events related to hijab row and ruling BJP leaders disturbing the law and order situation dented the image of the state as an education destination.

"I request the government to hold communal harmony conventions in every district across the state before organising the Global Investors Meet," he said.

The murder of a Bajrang Dal activist in Shivamogga and RDPR Minister KS Eshwarappa visiting the family of the deceased violating the prohibitory orders led to the law and order problem, he said. Also, the government failed to nip the controversy in the bud before it went to the court, he commented.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy said, "Do not try to taint the image of the state. Did we ask petitioners to move the court?"

Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah said that RDPR Minister Eshwarappa and Union minister Bhagawant Khuba violating prohibitory orders was a grave mistake. Madhu Swamy said Siddaramaiah too violated the government orders during the Mekedatu padayatra.

HC had passed interim order on Feb 10

THE petitioners' counsel argued that two judgments of Kerala and Madras High Courts, which went through Islamic verses and scriptures, concluded that purdah or burqa may not be an essential practice, but a headscarf or hijab is.

As a counter, the state government contended that hijab is not an essential religious practice. Citing several Supreme Court judgments, starting from Shirur Mutt to Sabarimala cases, the state counsel argued that petitioner-students placed zero material to substantiate their claim that wearing hijab is an essential religious practice under Article 25.

On February 10, 2022, the full bench passed an interim order, restraining all students, regardless of their religion or faith, to stop wearing garbs of religious significance, including saffron shawl (bhagwa), scarves, hijab, religious flags or the like within the classroom, pending consideration of the petitions. The court made it clear that the interim order is confined to only institutions where college development committees have prescribed the student dress code/uniform.

Ahead of the Judgment on the Hijab row by the Karnataka High Court, Bengaluru City Police Commissioner Kamal Pant on Monday issued prohibitory orders inder Section 144 across the city. Accordingly, any kind of gatherings, agitations, protests and celebrations in public places is banned for a week.

Aid, job sought for dead RTC staffer's family

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Assembly on Monday witnessed chaotic scenes over the issue of a Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (KKRTC) employee allegedly committing suicide after struggling for years to get a validity certificate.

The Congress and JDS members demanded that the State Government withdraw the order that mandates Civil Rights Enforcement (CRE) cells to validate caste certificates. They also demanded compensation and a job to a family member of the deceased employee.

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said that Omkar Revanappa Sherikar (42), hailing from the Gond community, was working as a driver-cum-conductor with KKRTC at the Bhalki depot for the last eight years. Siddaramaiah said Omkar hanged himself as he was unable to produce a validity certificate which is mandatory for all government employees.

"Earlier, deputy commissioners would provide caste certificates. But, in 2021, the government passed an order that validity certificates should be issued only after the employee provides a report given by the Civil Right Enforcement authorities. Omkar was harassed at the CRE cell and, at the same time, he faced harassment at his office for not producing the certificate. This forced him to end his life. There are more than 150 people like him in Bidar district alone," Siddaramaiah said. CM Basavaraj Bommai said the issue will be sorted out after holding discussions with legal experts.

BRING OUT WHITE PAPER ON STATE'S LOANS, SAYS BJP MLC

ENS @ Bengaluru

COUNCIL member Ayanur Manjunath of the ruling BJP urged the government to bring out a White Paper on the loans borrowed by the state.

During the discussion on the budget in the Council on Monday, Manjunath said borrowing loans did not start in chief minister Basavaraj Bommai's regime. "It has been there for decades. Siddaramaiah and H D Kumaraswamy have also borrowed loans. The government must bring out a White Paper on the status of loans to make it clear who borrowed and how much," he said.

He claimed that Siddaramaiah's government had borrowed huge loans compared to others. "When the BJP came to power, the economy was hit by the Covid-19 pandemic. Hence, borrowing was inevitable," he justified. He also said there should be no difference between civil and armed police staff in terms of salaries and other facilities, adding that though the selection process for both was the same, there was a difference in treatment.

KPCC to go back to grassroots

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Congress Working Committee decided to strengthen and reinforce the Congress party structure, and also hold organisational elections, at its meeting on Monday.

Opposition leader in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge said, "Strategies for strengthening the party were discussed. We will fight the BJP and its ideology, push our ideology and hope that in the next polls, we do much better than before." KPCC president DK Shivakumar, who is in New Delhi, said they will do everything to strengthen the party. "The KPCC and units at the taluk and block level are expected to execute the decisions of the central leadership in strengthening the party in Karnataka," he said.

The party is looking at a revamp and will hold organisational elections in August, party sources said. Until such time, the state unit will be revved up, a source said.

Shivakumar has gone to Delhi with a prospective list of office-bearers and organisational positions, and a list is likely to be announced by General Secretary (Org) K C Venugopal and Karnataka in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Kageri said everyone should watch the movie. "This is why I arranged for all legislators to watch it. This is open to all 224 MLAs and 75 MLCs. We have booked the entire hall," he added. On Monday evening, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and his staff caught up on the movie at Orion Mall. On Sunday, the CM too watched the movie and appreciated director Vivek Agnihotri's work. "Kudos to Vivekagnihotri for The Kashmir Files, a blood-curdling, poignant and honest narrative of the exodus of Kashmiri Pandits from their home land. To lend our support to the movie and encourage our people to watch it, we will make the movie tax-free in Karnataka" he tweeted.

Row over deaths: Jagan slams TDP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy on Monday lashed out at the TDP legislators for trying to project natural deaths as a hooch tragedy for their political mileage and creating nuisance in the House at a time when general discussion on the Budget was to commence.

He was referring to reports that 18 persons in Jangareddygudem in West Godavari district have died reportedly due to consumption of hooch and the Opposition TDP politicising the issue. Deputy CM Alla Kali Krishna Srinivas (Nani), who also holds the medical and health portfolio, stating that the deaths are natural and not from consumption of hooch.

The CM asserted that the government is making every effort to reduce liquor consumption in the state. He said that Jangareddygudem's is a big municipality and 18 people have not died in one location but across the town. Jagan said, "Illicit liquor production happened during Chandrababu Naidu's government and it is happening now. I am not denying it. For that very reason, my government has constituted a Special Enforcement Bureau to curb such illegal activities with an iron hand," he said.

To show that his government was working towards the objection, he said that they have closed 43,000 belt shops, which had become sales outlets for liquor shops in Naidu's regime, besides scrapping the permissions to permit rooms at 4,380 liquor shops in the state.

"Our government removed those permit rooms. Previous regime, with a profit motive, allowed the sale of liquor sans restrictions. Liquor shops were everywhere. Today, our government has stopped to it. Not only have we reduced the number of liquor shops, but the existing ones are also run by the government. We have also cut down the hours of liquor shops operation. Under such circumstances, where is the scope for illicit liquor," he said.

Go to probe agencies with proof of graft: KTR to Cong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

TELANGANA IT and Industries Minister KT Rama Rao on Monday dared the Congress to approach Central Vigilance Commission (CVC), ACB, Vigilance or the courts if the party has enough proof to support its allegations that the State government was steeped in corruption.

Reacting sharply to the insinuation made by Komatireddy Rajagopal Reddy in the State Legislative Assembly against Minister Talasani Srinivas Yadav during a discussion on irrigation and other demands, Rama Rao found fault with the Congress members for making derogatory and disrespectful comments against the senior members in the House. He demanded that Rajagopal Reddy tender an unconditional apology.

Rajagopal Reddy, during the discussion on Irrigation, levelled allegations of corruption while awarding contracts. Reacting sharply to the allegation, Rama Rao alleged that it was, on the other hand, the Congress which had become a synonym for corruption.

After the party's defeat in five States, Congress leaders seemed to be frustrated, he said, recalling the TPCC chief's highly objectionable comment that people should observe three-day mourning on the occasion of Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao's birthday.

Rama Rao said the Congress government had become a byword for corruption in the past. "A for Adarsh, B for Bofors and C for Commonwealth. A to Z and right from helicopters to coal mines, the Congress is known for scams," Rama Rao alleged.

17-yr-old sends video message to friends, jumps off 23rd floor

ENS @Bengaluru

A 17-year-old student of a private college jumped from the 23rd floor of a residential complex in Konanakunte on Sunday night. The victim sent a video message to his friends before jumping, however, not revealing why he was taking the extreme step.

A senior police officer said that the deceased has been identified as Abhishek (name changed), whose parents are into business.

It is reported that he came to the balcony of his cousin's house at around 3.15 am and jumped. His relatives were asleep at that time. Security guards at the complex heard a loud thud, and found him lying lifeless. Doctors declared him dead in hospital.

A case of unnatural death has been registered, and Abhishek's father told police that the boy, who was studying Second PUC, had no health or academic issues.

During the investigation, police found that he had sent video messages to a couple of friends around 3 am, stating that he had no personal issues in life. But he mentioned that he had to leave, and there was no other way. His friends, who were asleep, noticed the messages early in the morning and tried calling him. The police have recovered his devices to ascertain the reason behind the extreme step.

Farmers' round table to focus on GST, MSP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

Farmers from across the country will participate in the "farmers round table meet" in Bengaluruon March 19 to discuss the plight of their community in India. Sugarcane Growers Association president Kurbur Shanthakumar said that the conference, which will be attended by leaders of farmers' organisations, will discuss the issue of GST imposed on pesticides, fertilisers, drip irrigation equipment, and turmeric.

They will demand a rollback. Besides, they also want the government to allow 75 per cent of the land value as loan, and remunerative price for sugarcane.

Shanthakumar said that the government must announce a minimum support price for crops and include them in the Fasal Bima yojana to avoid financial losses due to natural disasters.

Following the Centre's withdrawal of the three controversial farm laws, the farmers during the conference will demand the state government rescind the APMC Act and the Land Reforms Act in Karnataka. Along with the committee, the turmeric growers will also meet chief minister Basavaraj Bommai, and urge him to waive off interest of agro production units which were hit during pandemic.

"We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it" — George Bernard Shaw

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

INDIA NEEDS PLAN TO DEAL WITH PROLONGED WAR IN UKRAINE

Russia's invasion of Ukraine was expected to be a short, brutal affair, with the local government capitulating in days. However, with the Ukrainian forces giving a tough fight, the war seems to be dragging on with increasing sanctions and economic disruptions on the horizon. India is not on the war front, but the upheaval in Europe is beginning to take a toll. The biggest hit is oil. Brent crude hit a high of $139 a barrel on March 7 before easing to $108 currently. Crude oil has been kept outside the basket of sanctions, but analysts like Goldman Sachs predict it could touch $150 if the ban on Russian oil is enforced. For India, which sources 80% of its needs from abroad, this will prove to be a major inflationary pressure. The rule of thumb: for every $10/barrel increase, inflation goes up 10 basis points (0.1%).

The prolonged war and business uncertainties have also roiled the financial markets. The BSE index initially dropped as much as 14% to 52,543 before clawing back some of the losses. But the turbulence continues. India has to worry about its defence needs too, which are heavily dependent on Russia. Over the years, imports have fallen from 70% to 49%, but the delivery pipeline for advanced gear like the S-400 air defence systems and the AK-203 assault rifles is still from Russia.

In a recent media interaction, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman acknowledged the looming threat of shortages, and suggested 'Make in India' as the alternative. This is easier said than done. Alternative and cheaper sourcing of crude oil will be the biggest challenge, and India needs to explore all possibilities including countries like Venezuela and Iran that had been in the banned list so far. In defence, the over-reliance on Russia will need to be re-examined and a shift to alternative weapons systems explored. No one knows how long hostilities will last, or whether Russia will be able to resume its role as a serious exporter in the near future. Self-reliance should no more remain a slogan, but a realistic path for the future.

KEEP FANS ENGAGED WITH TEST MATCHES

Test cricket cannot afford to be boring. Not now. Not in this world of shorter formats with adrenaline-pumping feats, where predicting a winner is not just perilous but impossible. Where just one over or sometimes even one ball is enough to decide the game. Contrast this with a Test match. Take for example the first Test between Pakistan and Australia. It had been 24 years since Pakistan hosted a Test involving Australia at home and effort should have been made to host a competitive game that would bring out the best from both sides. Instead, it was a dead pitch in Rawalpindi. Pakistan scored 476/4 and 252/0 after Australia managed 459. In the course of five days, only 14 wickets fell. Instead of a fair contest between bat and ball, we saw mountains of runs scored on a placid wicket. The Pakistan Cricket Board drew flak from not just the Australian captain but also experts. And predictably, the ICC gave a 'below average' rating.

Back home, India secured two victories against Sri Lanka, but both the Tests did not last more than three days. If the dead wicket played its part in the Rawalpindi Test, mismatch in skill and application led to one-sided matches here. Fans love to see India win but not in this way. After the Australia high and the fiercely fought South Africa tour, this two-Test series was a bit disappointing. In short, Sri Lanka was no match. And amid all this, the focus during the second Test match was on the pitch where the ball turned a lot and where the bounce was unpredictable, with some shooting below the blade. In the end, survival and scoring a few runs mostly hinged on fortune.

The World Test Championship does have a bearing on the kind of pitches home teams would want to have but for a team in transition like Sri Lanka, this was not needed. In fact, it could have brought the Lankans into the game had their bowling been consistent. After all, fans want to watch a good match where bowlers plot a batsman's fall, while the latter tries to build an innings.

With the stakes being high and the desire to win even higher, political parties of every colour have made promises that require more money than the states really have

THE ELECTION IS OVER! LONG LIVE THE ELECTION!

As the din and tumult of elections to the state Assemblies of Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Punjab, Goa and Manipur is done with, life is returning to normal in more ways than one. The tone, tenor and decibel of political discourse have changed. The aggressive pre-election stances give way to a more mature stance of acceptance of the will of the people. The people's verdict has prevailed and it's business as usual. The AAP is euphoric with its Punjab win, the BJP is celebrating wins in four states and the Congress is mourning its losses all over. As are others.

But this time round, it's a wee bit different. The election is over. Long live the election! The election in many ways, in every state we speak of, will live on in its promises and its promise-delivery mechanisms at play. And this is a long-tail issue to handle and deliver. An ever-lasting tail that lasts every day of those five years ahead.

This time round, with the stakes being high and the desire to win being even higher, political parties of every colour have made promises of a completely stretched kind. Promises that require more money than the states really have. The key point is that the winning party needs to keep these promises if it is to have its credibility intact. And 2024 is not too far away, and more immediately we have 11 more polls coming up before that. In India we have an election somewhere or the other, every year. What happens in one place has a beautiful way of percolating all across the fabric of our seamless states, as grist for the election there.

Our most recent sets of elections seem to have learned the Tamil Nadu model, as many of us called it when it was first scented. TN set the pace for the freebies. Literally every aspect of education, health and even domestic gadgets such as TVs and stoves were promised. While some items came from party funds pre-election as bait, most came as expenditures that had to be budgeted for under state funds, once the polls were over. And most remained recurring expenditures on budget, year on year.

Everyone criticised the TN model of freebies in elections at one time, and then everyone copied it in copybook fashion, to be included in their own election manifestos. This obviously means that freebies work. The way to a man's vote is through his quest for the freebie. And instant gratification is the norm. This lowest-common-denominator approach to an election, the electorate and eventually the vote, seems to be one embraced by every party around. To an extent the election manifesto has become a promissory note, one that will be redeemed once the election is over.

The election manifesto by definition is meant to be about the aims and policies of a political party. A document that lists it all clearly to differentiate it in the minds of the electorate. Today however, a reading of the election manifesto seems to be more about the bullet points of delectable freebies that are laid out as a promised buffet menu.

Again, nothing wrong with a promise. Just as long as the promise can be kept without draining the exchequer. And just as long as it is one that does not dull the sense of the need to work and achieve among us.

Now that most election manifestos of losing parties are lying around in garbage heaps of disgruntlement, without boring you too much with the numbers, let me look at two states, Punjab and UP, both won by different political parties. In Punjab, the AAP list of promises is long and deep, just as the BJP list of promises is in UP.

Let's look at Punjab. The state's coffers are not abundant at this point of time. Its annual budget hovers around ₹1.5 lakh crore and receipts this fiscal indicate an inflow of ₹95,257 crore. However, the state needs to keep its many promises to its people. To name a few, 300 units of free electricity to each household, ₹1,000 to every woman above the age of 18, upping of the old age pension, 6,000 Mohalla clinics for free treatment, property tax abolition (yet another loss of revenue) and more.

> There is a bright side to it all. Every promise made in the election manifesto needs to be fulfilled in the winning states. The anointed CMs have their plate full now. Fulfilling every promise will stretch their imagination, creative ability, political imagination and prowess to the ultimate

On a rough back-of-the-envelope calculation, the AAP will require an additional ₹48,000 crore annually to fulfil these promises. Where will this money come from then? As of now, just three routes. A complete attack on illegal mining, a frontal war on illegal liquor that flows freely, and a dedicated focus on bringing back lost revenues from the private transportation sector to the public. All tough and contentious issues. The good point, however, is the fact that these election promises and the need to fulfil them will become motivational carrots that will guide and drive governance.

In UP then, the list of promises includes increase in widows' pension, a ₹1 lakh assistance for the marriage of girls belonging to poor families, two (not one) free LPG cylinders every Holi and Diwali, free commute to women above 60 on public transport, a free Scooty to meritorious girls, and lots more for every segment of society there is to cater to.

Such promises therefore push the envelope further and further with every election. The model of managing and winning elections is changing. At one end in our society is glaring and acute privatisation, and at another is the model of acute socialism. The J Jayalalithaa model of freebies worked in Tamil Nadu to a great extent, and everything was branded an "Amma canteen", "Amma water", and an "Amma Pharmacy" even. Everyone criticised it. Everyone copied it.

Today, the Kejriwal model is working beautifully in Delhi. The realisation is out there in the open. As acute privatisation at one end is creating the best schools and the best hospitals to cater to those with the best monies, political parties have realised it's time to focus on acute socialism at the other end where it matters. Offer the best schools, the best medical facilities and the best transportation at literally just no cost to the deprived consumer at the other end of the spectrum. After all, we are all humans. Rich or poor, every one of us has a brain, a body, a stomach, a bladder and more. Each needs to be satiated. With the best. And there it goes, the election manifesto fulfilment gravy train!

In conclusion, there is a bright side to it all. Every promise made in the election manifesto needs to be fulfilled in each of the winning states. The anointed CMs of each of these states have their plate full now. Fulfilling every promise will stretch their imagination, creative ability, political imagination and prowess to the ultimate. In the bargain, there is likely to be a very creative approach to revenue generation, loophole plugging, corruption handling and efficiency generation in administration, by and large. Hopefully.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION IN POLICYMAKING UNDER PANDYAS

MADHUSUDHANAN KALAICHELVAN
Architect and conservationist interested in Indian heritage and culture

The Pandya kingdom seems to have introduced some of the most innovative administrative strategies. In comparison to other dynasties, involving the local population and community in the upkeep of public facilities was a more popular practice there. Vital activities like upkeep of water bodies, widening or deepening of reservoirs, desilting, monitoring embankments, etc., especially seem to have been managed by local governing bodies with enough support from the common people.

The popular temple at Srivilliputhur dedicated to Andal has a sacred tank named Thirumukkulam. Apart from its religious significance, it is a critical source of domestic water for the people of this town. In the reign of Kulasekhara Pandya (13th–14th century), the town administration met and resolved that every year, able-bodied men shall each excavate one big and small kuli each in the feeding channel of the tank.

All irrigation channels had appointed watchmen to monitor that no breaches occurred and in case there were any, they were attended to immediately. There is a case of six such illiterate watchmen, who were residents of Maravarkurichi town and engaged in the service of the deity of Tirunelveli.

Kalaiyar Koil is in the uplands of Sivagangai, an arid region. Around the early 14th century, the tanks endowed to the temple and the water channels were breached due to heavy showers. So the lands dependent on these tanks became uncultivable. A thevaradiyar (danseuse serving the deity) purchased these tanks in 1308 CE along with the wetland, dry land, nattam porambokku and the supply channel. As a purchaser, she could excavate, repair and desilt the tank, reclaim the land, treat it and make it cultivable. The land was exempted from tax but a measured quantity of paddy every quarter had to be submitted to the temple. A concessional fee was collected for the tanks and that was used for buying sandal paste for the deity. This is also an example of the philanthropic activities of the rudra kanikas.

In some cases, fishing in the tank was a serious means of income. During the time of Maravarman Sundara Pandya I, a local chieftain from Tirumangalam (near Madurai) issued an order to utilise the revenue collected as taxes through fisheries to be spent in annual maintenance of the tank including deepening and site clearance.

Neither the king nor his ministers in the capital city seem to have had any major role in looking after irrigation and associated activities. In a majority of the cases, it was within the local administration's purview. Drafting of norms, and approving and passing them seem to have been more a duty of the local governing body. An early inscription from the reign of Sadaiyan Maran (9th CCE) from Arikesarinallur describes the standing order passed by the administrative council of the settlement. It prevented farmers who benefited through an early crop from irrigating their lands using the Srikantan Canal for further cultivation that year, apart from a fine levied. Further the members resolved to monitor opening the branch channels to let down water for irrigation.

> The king and his ministers seem to have had no major role in looking after irrigation and associated activities. It was mostly within the local administration's purview. ... The temple at Srivilliputhur dedicated to Andal has a sacred tank named Thirumukkulam. In the reign of Kulasekhara Pandya, the town administration met and resolved that every year, able-bodied men shall each excavate one big and small kuli each in the feeding channel of the tank

In strong contrast to Vaigai, Tamrabarani was almost a perennial river. Along with its tributaries, it multiplies into a number of channels that feed tanks along their tract. Lands endowed to the temple for specific services were irrigated by the river. Interestingly, pathways to approach the river or canal were taken into account during demarcation of land or division of properties. Easy public access was considered important during land division.

In several cases of land sales, we see water rights also being transferred with the land sold, and supply of basic amenities was thus ensured. There are also cases where only water rights were being sold without any land sales. Such acts could have probably risen due to inadequacy of water supply. Water conservation by constructing check dams across streams continued till the Tenkasi Pandya times (15th century CE). A check dam was constructed across the jungle stream in Singikulam (near Kalakadu, Tirunelveli) during Sundara Pandya's time for which he was praised, as an inscription reveals. Much later in 1586 CE, a certain Malaiyittan excavated a spring channel to irrigate some lands nearby. The boundary of the land sold has been described with reference to a stone post from which people were fervently across the stream. Following these patterns, in the 17th century again, local ruler Neyinan Khan renovated the existing sluices.

On the Tamrabarani tracts too, fisheries seem to be a major source of income. The popular temple of Maha Vishnu in Nanguneri/ Vanamamalai had huge water bodies endowed to it. During the Nayak rule, the temple authorities along with the village council granted the fishing rights to a few residents and in return, they were required to desilt the tank annually. Similarly in a few other cases fishing rights were granted and in return deepening or maintenance of the embankment were sought.

To sum up, we see that the topography of the Pandya country is a bag of mixed fortune. However the strength of the Pandyas was clearly active community participation all over the kingdom. Their vigilance, keen observation and leaning towards dharmic solutions had proven so successful that the models established by the Pandyas were kept intact till even the 17th century. Members from various sections of society such as kings, nobles, merchants, administrators, thevaradiyars and watchmen have contributed their might to ensure water supply for irrigation and domestic purposes. The decisions taken by the Pandya citizens also stand testimony to the power of the traditional knowledge systems.

Beyond first family

It is a shocker that even after the defeat in 39 elections out of 49 since 2014 under the leadership of the first family, the Congress Working Committee has once again unanimously reaffirmed its faith in Sonia Gandhi's leadership (Mar 14). It was earlier said that the party would get a boost when Priyanka Gandhi Vadra entered active politics. But unfortunately her leadership in the UP election too was a failure. One wonders why southerners such as P Chidambaram are not offered the post of party president.

Stubble burning solution?

This is with reference to Challenges ahead after the AAP tsunami in Punjab (Mar 14). The AAP has won an unprecedented mandate. Punjab is a full-fledged state and the party will have no excuse unlike Delhi. A point that has not been mentioned is stubble burning and its serious impact on pollution in the national capital. The Delhi government used to blame Punjab. Now one hopes the problem would be solved since the AAP is in power both in Delhi and Punjab.

Take care of waterbodies

This is with reference to Will waterbodies be walked over in this Budget too? (Mar 14). That there hasn't been one major announcement regarding water resources in the last decades makes for sad reading. Given the spending on freebies, and on salary and pension for government employees, the state is perhaps left with little for waterbodies. It is time the government changed its priorities and concentrated on water resources.

Protectors turn predators

It is tragic to note that sexual assault cases are spiralling. The sad thing is that the predators are the very same persons responsible for the security of the victims. A warden of a government-run institution in Tiruvannamalai was arrested on charges of sexually assaulting and misbehaving with seven minor boys (Mar 14). Similar cases have been reported in many places.

Helping the Irulas

This is with reference to Why TN needs to protect Irula co-op (Mar 14). The newspaper deserves appreciation for focusing on this issue and ensuring action was taken regarding the inordinate delay over permission for capturing snakes. The expertise of the Irulas in snake catching and venom extraction has not helped improve their standard of living, whereas the medicine produced and marketed is invaluable. The Tamil Nadu government should evolve a plan and ensure the tribals get the maximum share.

Sidhu target of blame game in Punjab Congress

Senior leaders say high command did little to rein in state unit head before polls

Punjab CM-designate Bhagwant Mann tenders his resignation as MP to Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla at Parliament in New Delhi on Monday | PTI

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

KNIVES are out in Punjab Congress following the party's severe drubbing in the recent Assembly polls. The state unit has called a meeting on Tuesday to discuss the debacle. With most leaders blaming Punjab Congress chief Navjot Singh Sidhu, chances of him being replaced cannot be ruled out.

Former party chief Sunil Jakhar has hit out at those who described former Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi as an asset, while reviewing the debacle at a meeting in Delhi on Sunday. Without taking the name of senior Congress leader and Rajya Sabha MP Ambika Soni, Jakhar tweeted, "Thank god he wasn't declared a 'national treasure' at CWC by the 'Pbi' lady who proposed him as the CM. Maybe an asset for her but for the party, he has been only a liability. Not the top brass, but his own greed pulled him and the party down."

Jakhar added, "The fight among leaders for the post of the CM ruined the party. These leaders had turned suicide bombers for the party."

While senior Congress leaders Ghulam Nabi Azad and Ajay Maken have said that the high command's decision of replacing Amarinder Singh with Channi as CM was justified, they said the decision was too late. Maken, who was also chairman of the Punjab Screening Committee, criticised state party chief Sidhu for the rout. "When the party was trying to work out relief in electricity bills during the Channi government, Sidhu's statements created an atmosphere against the government," he said.

Holding the Gandhis responsible, former CM Amarinder hit out at the CWC for trying to put the blame on him instead of gracefully admitting their own blunders. "Congress has not only lost in Punjab but also in UP, Uttarakhand, Goa and Manipur. The fact is that the people across the country have lost faith in the leadership of the Gandhis," he said.

He pointed out that many senior leaders have blamed infighting in the state unit and Sidhu's "anti-party" statements for Congress' abysmal performance. Amarinder said the party was comfortably placed in the state until he was sacked to "favour certain sycophants".

The party dug its own grave in the state the day it decided to back an "unstable" and "pompous" person like Sidhu, and named a corrupt man like Channi as CM a few months before the polls, he alleged.

Former Deputy CM Sukhjinder Randhawa too hit out at Sidhu. "There was indiscipline and the high command didn't control it. Rahul Gandhi should have immediately taken action against those indulging in indiscipline."

Rawat takes responsibility for Cong loss in Uttarakhand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Dehradun

FORMER Uttarakhand Chief Minister and senior Congress leader Harish Rawat on Monday claimed responsibility for the party's defeat in the recent Assembly elections.

Earlier, in a social media post, he had said that he was forced to contest from the Lalkuwa seat and he knew his prospects were not bright.

"We wrongly calculated that we were winning in Uttarakhand. Being the chairman of the Election Campaign Committee, I take complete responsibility. I apologise to every member and leadership of the party," Rawat said.

Former state unit president Pritam Singh, who won from Chakrata, had said leaders should focus on seats they have worked in for five years.

With Rawat losing another election, his political career is at stake. Political analysts say the party has performed better than 2017 and this must be used to create and promote a second line of state leaders for future political prospects.

However, many still believe that Congress rose from 11 seats to 18 because of Rawat's connect with people. Rawat was defeated by the BJP candidate in Lalkuwa by more than 17,500 votes. In 2017, he had lost from both seats that he contested.

Now, there are whispers that Rawat would be shunned by the high command to make way for a second line. After he lost from Kiccha and Haridwar Rural in 2017, many had said his career was over. But in 2022, he became indispensable for Uttarakhand Congress and the party contested under his name.

5 Indian students killed in Canada road accident

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

BAD weather could have been the reason of the road accident which led to the death of five Indian students in Ontario, Canada, on March 12. Two of the students who survived the crash are in hospital.

The five students have been identified as Jaspinder Singh (21), Karanpal Singh (22), Mohit Chohan (23), Pawan Kumar (23) and Harpreet Singh (24). Chohan hailed from Balachaur in Punjab. More details are awaited.

They were attending schools in Montreal and Greater Toronto Area, according to Ontario Provincial Police. The van in which the students were travelling was hit by a tractor-trailor. The truck driver was not injured. No charges have been laid so far.

External Affairs Minister, Dr S Jaishankar expressed grief. "Deeply mourn the passing away of five Indian students in Canada. Condolences to their families and pray for the recovery of those injured," he tweeted.

In recent road accidents, 11 Indian students have died, which is considered as a matter of great concern in Canada. There are around 200,000 Indian students studying in Canada.

"Heart-breaking tragedy. Five Indian students were killed in a road accident and two others have been hospitalised," said India's High Commissioner to Canada, Ajay Bisaria. "Very saddened by the loss of the five Indian students," said High Commissioner (designate) for Canada in India, Cameron MacKay.

In an unrelated development, an Indian truck driver, Jaskirat Singh Sidhu, is being deported to India after he ignored a stop sign, in 2018, which led to an accident and the death of 16 students and 13 were badly injured.

This is the second tragic incident involving Indians in Canada in three months. In January, four including an infant were found dead near the Canada-US border. Authorities said that they had died because of extreme cold conditions.

Buyoed by success in Punjab, AAP to hold grand rally in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

BUOYED by the Punjab victory, AAP's Arvind Kejriwal and CM-designate Bhagwant Mann will participate in a grand 'Tiranga Yatra' in Gujarat in the first week of April, party sources have said.

The party, which is not even on the poll radar of the state but nurses high ambitions, has suffered attrition in its ranks over the months, with many of its nascent leaders at the municipality level switching over to the BJP. However, AAP's Punjab win seems to have injected a ray of hope. An indication of it came on Monday when a corporator, Manisha Kukdia, returned to AAP from the saffron camp.

Third alternative

Political analyst Manilal Patel says Panjab is an indicator that things can change. "AAP has a chance in Gujarat as people could be looking for a third alternative."

AAP's Gujarat in-charge Gulab Yadav exuded confidence that the party would emerge as an alternative to BJP and Congress. Party sources said that AAP convener and Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal and Punjab's CM-designate Bhagwant Mann would hold a grand roadshow called 'Tiranga Yatra' in Gujarat next month. "The leaders will guide party activists and give them the mantra of victory," said Yadav.

AAP has already started such yatras in important cities of the state, immediately after the Punjab poll results came out. The party is also going door-to-door in every village and town of the state.

The party is currently looking for a strong Patidar leader who can be the party's Chief Ministerial face. One such leader is Naresh Patel, who is a trustee of the Patidar community's biggest temple Khodel Dham near Virpur in Rajkot district. As per AAP's assessment, the powerful Patidars are dissatisfied with the BJP.

AAP made a significant entry in Gujarat in seven municipal corporation elections held in February last year. In the Surat Municipal Corporation, AAP was the main opposition with 27 seats. However, within a year, AAP's strength eroded as its corporators defected to BJP.

Cops raid Manipur MLA's house

Guwahati: Manipur Police on Monday "raided" the house of National People's Party (NPP) MLA Sheikh Noorul Hassan "in pursuit of a criminal case" even as he was being administered the oath of office and secrecy at the Assembly. Police had arrived in the house without informing the family and picked up some NPP workers. The act triggered an outrage among Hassan's supporters and they fought a pitched battle with the police.

205 UP MLAs have criminal cases

New Delhi: A total of 205 of the 403 newly-elected MLAs in Uttar Pradesh have declared criminals cases against them, according to their election affidavits. Of them, 158 have declared serious criminal cases against themselves, according to a report prepared jointly by Uttar Pradesh Election Watch and the Association for Democrcatic Reforms, In UP, the number MLAs with declared criminal cases was 143 in 2017.

CASTE TO CLASS, BJP REAPS BENEFIT OF WELFARE SCHEMES

BADRI NARAYAN
Director,
GB Pant Social Science Institute, Prayagraj

THE Uttar Pradesh Assembly election is over, with an amazing victory for BJP. Yogi Adityanath is again going to form the government, with more caution and a balancing attitude.

The UP election and even the election in Uttarakhand sent out messages we need to read. The first message from UP is, a class has started emerging in the caste-based society, especially among the marginalised and poor communities. The process is slow, but it has started. This process started not because of any Left ideology, but due to the socio-economic empowerment of the poor communities. The Narendra Modi-led BJP government since 2014 started various social welfare schemes such as Ujjwala Yojana, free ration, PM Awas Yojana, direct cash transfer and pension plans.

Every party in power makes its own beneficiaries, but BJP through constant connect with the beneficiaries, transformed them into a community with consciousness. The party transformed them from a mere physical body to conscious beings who vote for the party.

This beneficiary community is beyond caste and religion and it emerged as a community that broke its caste identity boundaries. Modi appealed to the party's cadres to go to the houses of the PM Awas Yojana beneficiaries on the day of Diwali, light candles with them and distribute sweets. The BJP invented various ways to connect with these beneficiaries. But this beneficiary consciousness is transitory and the party needs to constantly come up with new plans for their empowerment, for gradually responding to these growing aspirational consciousness of the poor and marginalised.

It is very interesting to observe that the party started its election campaign in UP with developmental claims and describing its success in delivering various social welfare schemes among the poor and marginalised. Dharmendra Pradhan, minister of education and in-charge of UP election 2022, facilitated cadres to interact with these beneficiaries and encourage them to go to the polling booths. This mobilising strategy worked.

We were observing the trajectories of UP elections closely. What we observed when PM Narendra Nodi took the lead of of the campaign, it brought a qualitative change in the entire electioneering process. His charisma, ways of connecting with people worked well and many BJP candidates who could have lost, ultimately won. For us on the field who were observing this, it was like magic, what people call Modi magic.

Thirdly, BJP as a very effective election machine worked well and harnessed this victory. Its star campaigners such as Modi, Yogi, Amit Shah, Rajnath Singh were making an impact through their rallies and meetings. On the other hand, hardworking organisers such as Pradhan, worked tirelessly on the ground.

Last but not the least, the Sangh cadres worked voluntarily during this election and organised local war rooms. They also interacted with the beneficiaries, other than working at the booth level.

All this put together produced such a result, not only in UP but also in Uttarakhanad. This beneficiary consciousness and Modi magic produced this victory, which might have come as a surprise to many.

BJP heavyweights to oversee govt formation in 4 states

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

IN a bid to ensure the government formation in the four states where it returned to power is smooth, the BJP on Monday appointed its top leaders including home minister Amit Shah, defence minister Rajnath Singh and finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman as central observers.

In the recently-held state elections, the BJP won Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Manipur and Goa. Sources said the election of the legislature party leaders in these states will be held soon in the presence of central observers.

Shah will oversee government formation in Uttar Pradesh with party vice president Raghubar Das as co-observer, while Singh will supervise the election of the legislature party leader in Uttarakhand. He will be assisted by Union minister Meenakshi Lekhi as co-observer.

The election of the legislature party leader in Manipur will be overseen by Union ministers Nirmala Sitharaman and co-observer Kiren Rijiju. Union minister Narendra Singh Tomar is the central observer for Goa while his cabinet colleague L Murugan will be the co-observer.

The central observers' job is cut out as it is the party legislature leaders who will become the chief ministers of the states concerned.

Sources said that a tussle over the chief minister post has erupted in Goa while it is not clear who will lead the government in Uttarakhand as chief minister Pushkar Dhami has lost the election.

In Uttar Pradesh, chief minister Yogi Adityanath is certain to be re-elected as the legislative party leader. However, the BJP is yet to take a call on deputy chief ministers. One of the two deputy CMs in the previous government, Keshav Prasad Maurya, lost the election.

India among world's largest importers of arms, US remains biggest supplier

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA is among the world's largest arms importers, accounting for 11 per cent global imports, according to the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI).

Even though India's arms imports have decreased by 21 per cent between 2012-16 and 2017-21, the country remains the largest importer globally. India is in the process of planning largea"Tension between China and many states in Asia and Oceania are the main driver of arms imports in the region," said Siemon T Wezeman, Senior Researcher with the SIPRI Arms Transfers Programme.

These tensions are also a major factor behind US arms transfers to the region. "The US remains the largest supplier to Asia and Oceania as arms exports are an important element of US foreign policy aimed at China," Wezeman added.

Asia and Oceania are the largest importing region for major arms, receiving 43 per cent of global transfers in 2017-21. The six countries in the region that happen to be largest importers are India, Australia, China, South Korea, Pakistan and Japan.

The US remains the biggest exporter, accounting for 39 per cent of the total. The country's exports rose by 14 per cent Russia is second, but its trade has fallen by 26 per cent. "The rise in US exports was mainly owing to increased transactions with Saudi Arabia, Australia, South Korea and Japan," says the report. The US, Russia, France, China and Germany accounted for more than three-fourth of global arms exports.

PARLIAMENTARY PANEL REPORT

More women in Central forces recommended

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

ON finding that women constitute only 3.68% of the total strength of Central Armed Police Forces, a parliamentary committee has asked the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) to take concrete steps to increase the representation of women in the Central police organisations.

The parliamentary standing committee on home affairs, headed by Congress leader Anand Sharma, pointed out that in 2016, it was decided to reserve 33% posts at the constable level for women in CRPF and CISF to begin with and 15% posts at the same level in BSF, SSB and ITBP.

In a report tabled in Rajya Sabha on Monday, the panel said, "The committee is disappointed to note that women constitute only 3.68% of the total strength of the CAPF. The committee recommends that MHA take concrete steps to increase the representation of women in CAPFs." The panel urged MHA to conduct phase-wise recruitment drives on a fast-track basis for women, particularly in CISF and CRPF.

The committee advised MHA to create a conducive environment in border outposts by putting in place separate arrangements, so that women are motivated to join the forces. The committee noted that ₹1,85,776.55 crore, covering all the 11 demands, has been allocated to the MHA in Budget Estimate 2022-23, which is an increase of 11.54% as compared to the allocation of ₹1,66,546.94 crore in 2021-22.

Reviewing the budget utilisation by the different departments within the MHA, the commitee said the Union Territories without legislature have utilised approximately 66.83% of the total allocation made to them in 2021-22 till January, 2022.

The committee said it believes that proper utilisation of funds is very important,failing which, it may lead to cuts by the finance ministry and weaken the case for enhanced allocations in subsequent years.

Nitish, Speaker spar over probe into arrests

CM didn't clear query posed to him on arrests of cops who misbehaved with him, says Bihar assembly speaker

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

Discussion in the House is not done like this. Do you know that the inquiry report on criminal incidents is not sent to the House. Instead, the report is sent to the court

Nitish Kumar, Chief Minister

You are a senior member of the House. We learn from you. I am here to protect the members. However, the members are free to raise the query if there is any administrative anarchy

Vijay Kumar Sinha, Speaker

THE Bihar Assembly on Monday witnessed an unprecedented incident where Chief Minister Nitish Kumar lashed out at Speaker Vijay Kumar Sinha asking him to run the House as per the Constitution.

The trouble started soon after the issue pertaining to the killing of nine people in Lakhisarai within 52 days and police's failure to arrest the culprits was raised in the House during question hour by a BJP MLA Sanjay Saraogi. Lakhisarai happens to be the assembly constituency of the Speaker, who is from the ruling NDA ally BJP.

Nitish, who was in his chamber while the issue was raised by the BJP lawmaker, rushed to his seat and interrupted him. "I am amazed by the way the issue is being raised repeatedly in the House," he said.

He also questioned the authority of the Speaker on issues related to crime. "Do the House have powers to look into such matters? You go through the Constitution. Discussion in the House is not done like this. Do you know that the inquiry report on criminal incidents is not sent to the House. Instead, the report is sent to the court," a visibly angry Nitish said.

He said the matter related to the misconduct against the Speaker by police officials during the latter's visit to his constituency over arrests made in connection with violation of Covid curbs by organising an orchestra on Saraswati Puja, was being looked by the Privilege Committee of the House.

"I assure you that the government will consider the report and recommendation of the Privilege Committee," Nitish said, while making an appeal to maintain sanctity of the House.

The Speaker, however, tried to convince the chief minister. He said the issue was raised in the House thrice. The minister was not able to satisfy the member who raised the issue. He, however, added that he would not allow the legislature (Chair) to be demoralised.

Referring to the CM's outburst, the Speaker said, "You are a senior member of the House. We learn from you. You have made to sit in the chair. I am here to protect the members. However, members are free to raise the query if there is an administrative anarchy."

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

MADHYA Pradesh Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan made a slew of announcements on the floor of the Vidhan Sabha during the ongoing budget session on Monday.

Making a detailed statement during the debate on the Governor's Address, the CM announced to waive ₹6,400 crore worth electricity bills of 88 lakh consumers. The outstanding bills pertained to the Covid-19 period.

"The state government had postponed the collection of electricity bills during the Covid-19 period. Arrangements were made to deposit the remaining amount in six installments. A total of 48 lakh consumers had taken the benefit of Samadhan Yojana (settlement scheme) for that purpose. But in view of the difficulties of the people, electricity bill worth ₹6,400 crore of 88 lakh domestic consumers will be waived," the chief minister announced. He said that those 48 lakh consumers who had deposited around ₹189 crore under the the Samadhan Yojana don't need to get dejected following this bill waiver, as the amount already paid by them will be adjusted in future electricity bills.

Chouhan further said that the government will pay the interest burden of loan defaulting farmers, who didn't pay the interest on their outstanding loans to banks, out of the expectations that loans of up to ₹2 lakh would be waived by the previous Congress regime in the state.

The chief minister announced to raise MLA Local Area Development Fund from ₹2 crore to ₹3 crore. He also said the Mukyamantri Kanyadan Yojana (marriage support scheme for poor girls of all communities) will restart and the existing Ladli Laxmi Yojana would be re-launched as Ladli Laxmi Yojana 2.0.

Three held for murder of Army jawan

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE army man, whose body was found last week in central Kashmir's Budgam district, was abducted and killed by Lashkar-e-Toiba militants, police said on Monday. They added that three militant associates involved in the killing of a sarpanch in Kulgam last week have been arrested.

"The police have solved a case pertaining to abduction and killing of an army jawan by arresting a militant associate linked to LeT," a police official said. On March 7, body of missing jawan Sameer Ahmad Malla was recovered from Khaag area, three days after he had gone missing from near his residence.

The police official said that during investigation, specific leads were generated which led to the arrest of a one suspect, Ather Illahi Sheikh. "During questioning, he confessed that on March 6, three LeT militants came to his house and stayed there for the night and the next day, the jawan was called by to his residence, from where he was kidnapped by the four. Thereafter, he was taken to the spot from where the body was ultimately retrieved," he said. Police have recovered the shovel used to bury the body.

The official said police have also solved a case pertaining to killing of sarpanch Shabir Ahmad Mir by militants at Adoora, Kulgam in south Kashmir on March 11. "During investigation, it was learnt that an active HM militant Farooq Nali alias Umer had received directions from Pakistani handlers to target PRI members of Kulgam. On their directions, he identified the target and gave direction to HM militants to execute the act," the official said.

Now PSA slapped on arrested Kashmir editor

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

A Kashmir-based journalist – who is under police detention– has been booked under the Public Safety Act, even as the Fact Finding Committee (FFC) of Press Council of India has recommended that intimidation and detention of journalists in Kashmir should be stopped.

Fahad Shah, editor of a news portal and magazine, who is under detention since February 4, has been booked under the stringent PSA.

"Sensing that the special court may grant the bail as the allegations levelled against the Fahad Shah does not prima facie connect him with the commission on any offence, the authorities have taken recourse to J&K Public Safety Act," Shah's lawyer Umair Ronga said.

Sources said the government has ordered his lodgement at Central jail, Kupwara. He is currently lodged at Safakadal Police Station in Srinagar.

Under the PSA, a person can be booked without trial for upto two years.

Fahad, who is editor of The Kashmir Walla, has been arrested in three cases and was granted bail in two cases by the court.

Fahad was arrested on February 4 by Pulwama police under UAPA for alleged wrong reporting about an encounter in Pulwama on January 30 in which four militants of Jaish-e-Mohammad including a top commander Zahid Wani and a Pakistani militant were killed.

Fahad was granted bail by a special NIA court on February 26. However, he was arrested by Shopian police in another case on the same evening.

On March 6, Fahad was arrested by police for the third time in another case hours after he was granted bail.

Media groups and bodies in India and abroad have demanded his immediate release.

Organic 'gulaal,' incense sticks made from offerings in Jharkhand temple

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

TO keep the water sources clean, the Ramgarh district in Jharkhand has taken up manufacturing of organic 'gulaal' and incense sticks with the flowers and 'belpatra' offered to Goddess Chinnamastika at Rajrappa temple.

These offerings to the Goddess were thrown into the confluence of the Domodar and Bhairavi rivers located near the temple complex.

Thousands visit the temple daily, resulting in the accumulation of tons of flowers, belpatra, bangles, 'aalta' and several other things that find place into the confluence of the two rivers, creating pollution.

The Deputy Commissioner said that the initiative has been taken by the district under Project Matangi by utilising the District Mineral Foundation funds.

The project is aimed at segregating flowers and belptara and drying them up. The dried part of the flowers is processed involving the local women and then made into organic gulaal and other colours, said Ramgarh Deputy Commissioner Madhavi Mishra. Similarly, 'belpatra' is used for making incense sticks after processing the dried leaves, she said.

"Once the production is up, we will tie-up with Brand Palash of Jharkhand State Livelihood Promotion Society (JSLPS) for branding and marketing," said Mishra. Production of incense sticks has begun with the first lot of gulaal and other colours being readied before Holi, she said.

As of now, nearly 25 local women have been employed in the project, she said. "A semi-mechanised system was chosen for production for generating livelihood opportunities to those who were already involved in cleaning and other menial jobs in the temple premises," she said.

23 KILLED IN MISSILE STRIKE BY UKRAINE: MOSCOW

MOSCOW: Russia said on Monday that an attack by Kyiv's forces on the separatist stronghold of Donetsk in eastern Ukraine had left 23 people dead, with the military accusing Kyiv of committing a "war crime". Moscow accused Ukraine's army of firing a Tochka-U missile at a residential area in Donetsk, in one of the most serious attacks on the city since Russia sent troops into Ukraine over two weeks ago. Separatists, who have controlled the city since 2014, had earlier said fragments from a rocket they shot down had left between 16 and 20 civilians dead. AFP

'EXPEL RUSSIA FROM COUNCIL OF EUROPE IMMEDIATELY'

STRASBOURG: Ukraine demanded that Russia be immediately expelled from the Council of Europe (COE), saying it had no right to remain a member of the pan-European rights body after invading its neighbour. The council's executive body, the committee of ministers, had suspended Russia from all its rights of representation a day after the invasion — but an expulsion would be unprecedented. "We urge you to take a decision on the immediate expulsion of Russia from the Council of Europe," PM Denys Shmyhal said. AFP

2.8 MILLION REFUGEES TAKE TREACHEROUS JOURNEY TO SAFETY

Vast majority has sought refuge in Poland which has taken in over 1.7 million Ukrainians

PRZEMYSL (POLAND)

AS Russia's war in Ukraine becomes a grim new reality for millions of Ukrainians, the tens of thousands who make the increasingly treacherous journey towards safety in the European Union each day are left with no sense of when, or if, they'll ever return home.

More than 2.8 million people have fled Ukraine in the wake of Russia's invasion, according to the UN refugee agency, the vast majority seeking refuge in Poland which has taken in more than 1.7 milliom refugees in the last 19 days.

In the Polish border town of Przemysl, some of those who are fleeing, mostly women and children, are exhausted and express a simple wish that the war and violence would stop.

"All day crying from the pain of having to part with loved ones, with my husband, my parents," said Alexandra Beltuygova, 33, who fled from Dnipro, a city between the embattled metropolises of Kyiv and Mariupol. "I understand that we may not see them. I wish this war would end," she said.

At a refugee centre in Suceava in northern Romania, 28-year-old Lesia Ostrovska watched over her one-year-old son as her daughter, who is 8, played nearby with other children displaced by the war. "I left my husband, my father, my mother, my grandparents," said Ostrovska, who is from Chernivtsi in western Ukraine. "It's hard with kids, in the bus, here in this situation ... We hope that the war is finished soon and we can go back home." As the fighting, now in its third week, continues to exact a grievous human toll in Ukraine with Russian troops bombarding many of the country's most populous cities, the number of those crossing into countries on the eastern edge of the EU has begun to slowly wane in recent days.

In Hungary, where around 2,55,000 refugees have entered so far, only 9,000 people crossed the border with Ukraine on Sunday compared to more than twice that on March 1, according to police. In Slovakia, where more than 200,000 people have fled, fewer than 9,000 crossed the border on Sunday, down from more than 12,000 four days earlier. And in Poland on Sunday, about 82,000 refugees were admitted, down from an earlier daily peak of around 129,000. Still, those who managed to flee the violence continued to arrive in countries on Ukraine's western border.

In Przemysl, some recounted being witnesses to military attacks on civilians, something Russia continues to deny. "I saw destroyed houses and fighting. I saw a lot of tanks when I was driving from Kyiv. I know that a house near us was completely destroyed this morning," said Inessa Armashova, 40, a resident of the Ukrainian capital. "Many people fled. But many cannot leave, sick children or sick elderly people." AP

They are now being given "life-saving" care by National Health Service and have been accompanied by their carers, he said. AFP

Red Cross chief: Ukraine war 'nothing short of a nightmare'

Dubai: The ongoing Russian war on Ukraine has become "nothing short of a nightmare" for those living in besieged cities, a top Red Cross official said on Monday, calling for safe passage out for civilians and humanitarian aid to be allowed through the front lines. Robert Mardini, the director-general of the International Committee of the Red Cross, also called the war "catastrophic" for civilians affected by the fighting as people run out of drinking water, food, medical supplies and fuel for heating, particularly in the surrounded Ukrainian city of Mariupol. AFP

Zelenskyy to address full US Congress

WASHINGTON

UKRAINE'S president will deliver a virtual address to Congress on Wednesday as lawmakers bid to rachet up pressure on the White House to take a tougher line over Russia's invasion.

The appeal comes with both sides launching a fresh round of talks amid deadly air strikes in the capital Kyiv, nearly three weeks after Russia's President Vladimir Putin ordered the attack.

"We look forward to the privilege of welcoming President (Volodymyr) Zelensky's address to the House and Senate and to convey our support to the people of Ukraine as they bravely defend democracy," House leader Nancy Pelosi and her Senate counterpart Chuck Schumer said in a joint letter to lawmakers. Anthony Rota, the Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, said Zelenskyy would also address lawmakers in Ottawa, on Tuesday.

Report says Paytm Bank leaked data

Adds RBI punished it when data leakage was found in annual inspections by the regulator

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AFTER the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday barred Paytm Payments Bank (PPBL), which processes transactions for Paytm, from onboarding new customers with immediate effect due to supervisory concerns, a fresh report says that the action was taken after the RBI had found the PPBL's servers were sharing information with China-based entities that indirectly own a stake in the Paytm Payments Bank.

The other reason for RBI's decision is said to be not following adequate know-your-customer (KYC) norms.

In a report, news agency Bloomberg, citing unnamed sources, has said that data leakage was found in annual inspections by RBI.

The report notes that PPBL, being a regulated financial institution, was required to maintain a so-called service level agreement with its technology vendor that would ringfence the entity from its owners. Paytm is backed by China's Alibaba Group Holding and its affiliate Ant Group.

PPBL, however, said that the data leak report to Chinese firms is completely false and simply sensationalising. Paytm founder and CEO Vijay Shekhar Sharma in multiple TV interviews said that there is no server of bank that is not in India. "All of the Bank's data resides within the country. We are true believers of the Digital India initiative, and remain committed to driving financial inclusion in the country," a PPBL Spokesperson said. The spokesperson added that the Bank is taking immediate steps regarding the RBI's decision and they remain committed to working with the regulator to address their concerns as quickly as possible.

This development had a catastrophic impact on Paytm share prices on the stock exchanges. The stock fell over 12% to close at ₹680 a piece, falling over ₹700-mark for the first time. With the current fall, Paytm shares have lost more than two-third of their value when compared with the issue price of ₹2,150. Similarly, its market capitalisation has fallen below ₹44,000 crore as against the m-cap of ₹1.39 lakh crore before the stock hit the exchanges.

TODAY'S STOCK PICK

DIVIS
Current Price ₹4,385.50
Target Price ₹5,500

DIVI is well-placed to benefit from a) the opportunity arising from formulators increasingly outsourcing to Indian companies, b) DIVI's readiness to timely address prospects arising from the Covid/non-Covid situation, c) new product introductions, as well as d) market share gains in existing products in the API segment. We expect a 23% earnings CAGR over FY22-24E.

Investors keen on LIC IPO despite valuation concerns

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

VALUATION concerns have not deterred the interest of investors in the initial public offer (IPO) of state-owned life insurer Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) of India, a senior finance ministry official said.

"The interest shown by investors in the road shows for the LIC IPO has been immense. This is not a small issue (IPO), and investors know the importance of the company," he said, rebutting the concerns over higher valuation of the offer. He said the pricing of the IPO would be discovered over time gauging the interest shown by investors during the road shows.

The government has been organising road shows wooing large global investors who have not yet shown interest in what is likely to be the biggest public share sale offer by any company in the country. The likely pricing of the LIC IPO has kept many large investors at bay as they feel the shares would be valued at a premium the company may not command.

The embedded value of LIC has been estimated at ₹5.4 lakh crore, and based on the embedded value many analysts believe the IPO would be priced upwards of ₹1,800, which according to them is very high.

Some analysts have even said LIC might have to relook at its embedded value, which is allowed by the markets regulator.

They say return ratios of LIC are at sub-par with other listed private sector life insurers. The finance ministry official hinted the listing of the insurer may not fructify in the current financial year. The official said: "Given the situation (Ukarine-Russia crisis) and the market condition, we are hoping we could still manage to list it in March."

Tata Sons chief appointed as Air India Chairman

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

TATA Sons chairman N Chandrasekaran has been appointed as the chairman of Air India. The appointment was cleared at a board meeting held by Air India on Monday. While the board has made Chandrasekaran the chairman of AI, who also is the chairman of other Tata Group companies, they are yet to announce the appointment of a chief executive officer (CEO) for the airline

The Tata's are on the hunt for a new CEO after former Turkish Airlines CEO Ilker Ayci resigned before taking charge officially. Ayci was supposed to take responsibilities as the CEO and Managing Director (MD) of AI on or before April 1, 2022.

Since his name was announced by the Tata Group on February 14, there were wide speculations that the Indian government would go through a rigorous process to give Ayci necessary clearances, which generally are formalities, owing to his close ties with Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan, considered as a close ally of Pakistan.

Ilker Ayci on March 1 then declined the offer of Tata Sons to be the MD and CEO, stating that some sections of the Indian media are attempting to color his appointment.

Tata Group had won the bid to acquire the national carrier along with Air India Express and 50% stake in AISATS in October last year for ₹18,000 crore after a competitive bidding process that lasted for more than a year.

INDIAN DIAMOND TRADE

Diamond trade fears sanctions on Russia

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

THE Indian diamond trade is a worried lot with US sanctions on Russia threatening to have collateral impact on the world's largest cutter and polisher of diamonds.

To be sure, the fallout hasn't yet been felt by Indian diamantaires. But the fact that Russia supplies around 35-40% of the world's rough diamonds and the US consumes 50% of the world's polished diamonds is causing "consternation" in trade circles about how the US would treat polished stones produced by India from Russian roughs , said Anoop Mehta , president of Bharat Diamond Bourse (BDB), India's diamond trading hub. Mehta said the trade was awaiting clarity.

Jobs would be hit if US sanctions polished diamond imports from India that have been made from Russian roughs.

"India cuts and polishes 14 out of 15 of the world's roughs," said Vipul Shah, vice chairman of the commerce ministry-sponsored Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (Gjepc). "We are hopeful that the US would view India as the country of origin as the stones are cut and polished here."

Between them, Russia's Alrosa and Anglo American-owned DeBeers constitute over 65% of the world's rough supply. Alrosa produced 32.4 mn carats of diamonds in 2021, up from 30 mn in 2020. DeBeers produced 32.27 mn carats in 2021, up from 25.1 mn carats in 2020.

India polishes diamonds sourced from both these companies and exports them across the world. The diamonds are cut and polished in Surat and traded out of BDB. On an average the country imports roughs worth $16 billion and exports $21 billion polished each year. A source said employment could suffer if the US sanctioned imports of Russian origin stones indirectly. "If they insist on segregating polished stones using Russian roughs, it would become a big problem," the source said.

Court sends former NSE CEO to 14-day remand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

A Delhi court on Monday sent to 14-day judicial custody the former managing director and chief executive officer of National Stock Exchange (NSE) Chitra Ramkrishna in connection with a 2018 case of bourse manipulation.

The court ordered that Ramakrishna be physically produced before the court next on March 28. The CBI produced the accused before court upon the expiry of her 7-day custody and urged it to remand her to judicial custody. The probe agency had arrested Ramkrishna on March 6, a day after her anticipatory bail application was dismissed by the court. The CBI had recently questioned Ramkrishna in the matter.

During the arguments for bail, the CBI counsel submitted that she has stopped cooperating and is giving evasive replies during the investigation. The counsel further added that she's very much influential and thus her remand is necessary.

During the hearing, the court said that the probe agency had earlier sought 14-day judicial custody for Ramkrishna but now did not want to seek further custody. "Is she the mastermind of this FIR or was there a puppet master pulling the strings?" the court asked. The CBI submitted that it would be "premature to say that at this stage and they are confronting her on all aspects". Ramakrishna's lawyers have also informed the court that they are filing a bail application.

The court rejected Chitra's request for home cooked food in the custody by saying that the jail food is good enough.

When Chitra's counsel asked for other items, including a prayer book and masks, Judge again dismissed the request stating that VIP prisoners want everything then every rule should be changed. "Every prisoner is the same. She's not a VIP," said Special Judge Sanjeev Aggarwal.

The arrest was made in the case related to the co-location scam, the FIR for which was registered in May 2018, amid fresh revelations about irregularities at the country's largest stock exchange.

DOUBLE BLOW

Retail inflation rises to 8-mth high, wholesale prices edge up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA's inflation stayed at elevated levels as both retail and wholesale inflation in February witnessed a slight uptick, according to data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation on Monday.

Retail inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI) rose 6.07% year-on-year in February – the highest in eight months. In January, CPI inflation was 6.01%. This is the second consecutive month when the CPI inflation has breached RBI's threshold of 6% as food and beverages prices rose to a 15-month high during the month.

Food inflation was 5.85% in February, up from 5.43% in January, due to rising edible oil prices and continued supply bottlenecks. The oils and fats category witnessed the maximum inflation of 16.44%. Vegetable prices rose 6.13%, meat and fish price gained 7.45%, eggs 4.15%, sugar and confectionery gained 5.41%, pulses and products rose to 3.02%.

Fuel inflation, though moderated to 8.73% in February against 9.32% in January, remained at elevated levels. Core inflation (non-food, non fuel inflation) also remained high above 6%.

Meanwhile, the wholesale inflation in February was 13.11%, up from 12.96% in January. The uptick was primarily because of higher primary and manufacturing inflation. This is the 13th consecutive month for which WPI inflation showed a double digit growth.

vHealth sees high growth potential in South India

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

GLOBAL health tech organisation vHealth by Aetna is now strengthening its footprint in South India by expanding its subscriber base across all five states.

It is actively expanding its network, subscribers and partner base, as the company has crossed 7 lakh subscribers in these states.

vHealth services are offered in India by Aetna's fully-owned subsidiary, Indian Health Organization. Aetna is a subsidiary of CVS Health, A fortune 5 enterprise, which is a health care benefits company in the US, serving over 46.7 million people.

Anurag Khosla, CEO, vHealth said, "South India is an important market for us where we have seen tailwinds. We have established an extensive network in all the five states, and are looking at strengthening it further."

The Indian health tech market is projected to grow at a rate of 39% CAGR to reach $5 billion by FY2023, and the healthcare industry is undergoing a major digital transformation. Many start-ups are operating in this space, including ZiffyTech, Affordplan, Practo and Portea, offering different services.

Khosla told TNIE that India has the opportunity to leapfrog in adoption of digital health, telemedicine and electronic medical records. In the past few years, India has made substantial advancements in the field of healthcare technology.

"Wider applications such as robotics, AI and wearables are transforming the future of healthcare. The enhanced focus on digitalisation of patient medical records and a common Health ID can become key enablers for tech integration," he said. Like in the case of banks and financial institutions, data sharing between healthcare providers should be under a strict data protection framework, he added.

While Covid-19 revealed the inadequacies in our healthcare system, technology is enabling us to bridge the gaps in existing medical care. It is expected that this year will witness a steep surge in automation and telemedicine. Over the last 5 years, vHealth has been achieving 45% CAGR. The company is expecting to maintain the same run rate with renewed digital focus and revamped online customer journey.

"The increase in demand for telemedicine, remote health monitoring and a hybrid phygital (physical and digital) healthcare experience for patients will fuel the next growth spike," he said.

CIL arms invest ₹1,132 cr to mitigate monsoon effect

The government on Monday informed Coal India Ltd (CIL) subsidiaries invested ₹1132.5 crore to mitigate the effect of monsoon on coal production. Last year, India faced shortage of coal in the country due to heavy rainfall in coal producing regions. Many states including Delhi, Punjab and Chhattisgarh repeatedly warned of a critical situation and requested the Centre to fulfill the coal requirements of power plants to avoid any disruption. The ministry informed the Mahanadi Coalfields Limited (MCL) has crossed 157 million tonne (MT) in coal production in the financial year of 2021-22.

Market bounces amid Ukraine-Russia talks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE market continued its bounce on hopes of some headway being made in talks between Russia and Ukraine. The Nifty rose 1.45% to 16871.3 and the Sensex jumped 1.68% to 56486. The markets have risen for the fifth straight sessions, since Nifty made a low of 15711.45 on March 7. But analysts view this as a technical bounce and a sell on rise market.

"I am still not comfortable given the news flows and the elevated levels of volatility," said Siddarth Bhamre of InCred Equities. "There could be more upside to this bounce, but it would be sold into in all the likelihood."

FIIs continued to be sellers, having sold a small sum worth a provisional ₹176 crore, while DIIs purchased shares worth a provisional ₹1,099 crore on Monday.

Also, FIIs covered their shorts on index futures like Nifty and Bank Nifty, which added "more bang to the buck," in the words SK Joshi, director, Khambatta Securities. Covering a short position entails buying it back to cut losses. FIIs covered 6583 index futures contracts, adding to the rally.

GST council not for inclusion of petroleum products: Puri

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

A proposal to bring petroleum products under the Goods and Services Tax was taken up by the GST Council but it did not find favour, said the minister of Petroleum and Natural Gas Hardeep Singh Puri on Monday.

The minister while replying to a question in Rajya Sabha said the states, which earn high revenue from sale of petroleum products are reluctant to do so. "States which are acquiring high revenue from the sale of petrol and petroleum products and if I may also add liquor are normally reluctant to reduce their revenue from these two sources," said Puri.

The minister also informed that their government will take all measures to ensure that consumers get relief from high fuel prices.

The crude oil in the International market has been on boil ever since Russia declared military operation in Ukraine. The Brent Crude Future even touched $139 per barrel once. However, it retracted, and now hovers around $109 per barrel.

Coe says sports must fight to keep Russia banned

Sports federations have set precedents by banning Russian and Belarusian athletes from competition following the invasion of Ukraine and they must remain firm to keep them in place, Olympic great Sebastian Coe said. "...I think we have to recognize that this (ban) is such a game changer. And, yes, it will set precedents," Coe said.

BUMRAH'S PACE VALUE

On a spinner-friendly surface, pacer was a class apart with 8 wickets across both innings as India win second Test

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

THERE was a time where opposition teams used to arrive in India prepared for their spinners. On slow, spinning tracks, it was the spinners who did the maximum damage. But since the first cycle of the World Test Championship, there has been a huge shift in this. A potent pace attack at this disposal in itself is capable of inflicting damages even before the ball is thrown at the spinners.

It was evident again at the M Chinnaswamy Stadium, where India wrapped up the second Test against Sri Lanka on Day 3 by 238 runs on Monday. If all things pointed out to spinners R Ashwin, Ravindra Jadeja and Axar Patel making life difficult for Sri Lanka on a dry surface that turned from Day 1, it was pacer Jasprit Bumrah who walked away with eight wickets — the most in this Test. These numbers look even more startling when the rest of pacers in the match — India's Mohammed Shami, Sri Lanka's Suranga Lakmal and Vishwa Fernando — had a combined tally of four wickets.

The presence of a bowler, who takes conditions out of the equation, is the last thing teams touring to India would want. With Shami in the mix and three world-class spinners, batters are always up against an attack that is probing them at all times. To cut short, there is simply no respite. The variety in the Indian pace attack is what makes them formidable home and away as they now have bowlers who can make life difficult for batters with the new ball and the old.

The luxury of it is, India just no longer need to call on their spinners to get the breakthroughs. Right through the Test, whenever Sri Lanka were threatening to build a partnership, Rohit turned to Bumrah. On Monday, as Sri Lanka captain Dimuth Karunaratne fought a lone battle against a formidable Indian attack to score his 14th Test century, and appeared immovable, it was Bumrah who breached his defence.

After his wicket, India just took three overs to clean up the tail. From his first over of the day till his last, Bumrah asked questions to the Sri Lankan batters via his movement and his well-directed bouncers. Relentless in his attack and patient enough to work-over a batter, Bumrah was class personified.

"Bumrah's performance was magnificent without a doubt. To come out and bowl like that in these kinds of conditions shows how much skill and ability he has. This was a different kind of pitch. It was turning and bouncing and everything was happening for spinners. But Bumrah, the kind of skills he has, coming and hitting the stumps all the time. And if there's any lateral movement, he's always in play," said Rohit. "Both (Bumrah and Shami) of these guys have been brilliant for India. And whatever conditions you play, they are always in play. They can reverse the ball, they can bounce batsmen out. They have so many variations as well. To have someone like them is always a good thing."

Bowling aside, with a new-look batting order, India showed they are only growing from strength-to-strength as Shreyas Iyer and Hanuma Vihari vindicated the selectors' decision to look beyond Cheteshwar Pujara and Ajinkya Rahane. The series win took India to fifth position in the WTC table.

Lovlina and Nikhat seal Asiad berths

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AFTER sealing the World Championships berth last week, Lovlina Borgohain (69kg) and Nikhat Zareen (51kg) showed that they're numero uno in their respective categories by dominating the Asian Games selection trials.

Both the boxers posted massive wins (7-0) in their respective finals on Monday to ensure that they'll be taking the flight to Hangzhou, China. The Boxing Federation of India (BFI) conducted a separate trials for two weight categories (69kg and 51kg) from March 11 to 14 at the IG Stadium in New Delhi to ensure that everyone in and around that weight range can get a fair shot.

That meant there were quite a number of boxers aspiring to win the trials and earn a chance to be part of the multi-discipline event, which is scheduled to be held from September 10 to 25. In the 51kg category, there were as many as nine boxers (the trials were open for 48kg, 50kg and 52 kg boxers). In Lovlina's category, there were a total of six boxers in contention.

In the final, Lovlina beat Pooja of Railways while Nikhat got the better of Manju Rani, the 2019 World Championships silver medallist. The duo will travel alongside Manisha (57kg), Jaismine (60kg) and Saweety Boora (75kg).

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IT might still be early stages in the World Cup and the leading run-scorer, wicket-taker tags are likely to change almost every other day. But three matches into the tournament, Indian left-arm spinner Rajeshwari Gayakwad has already made her mark. With seven scalps so far, she is third in the bowling charts, and the only spinner to be in the top four. But, if you had asked her whether she foresaw this almost a year ago, the answer might not be a straightforward one.

Having been among the top wicket-takers in the home series against South Africa in March 2021, Rajeshwari was at her prime to do well on India's return to the longest format after seven years during the England tour. Unfortunately, getting infected with Covid-19 followed by a knee injury meant that the left-arm spinner from Bijapur was out of action. Ekta Bisht, another left-arm spinner she had to compete with in the past, took her place in the team. Rajeshwari was hurting. "The injury was a huge disappointment as she was very excited for the tour, especially for the Test match," recalls her sister Rameshwari Gayakwad, who plays for Karnataka. "It was during the peak second wave of Covid and hence she could not get physical treatment and recovery and a lot of it had to be online. It was a big blow as she was worried about getting fit in time for the next tour," she added.

Historic victory for B'desh; England lose

CHENNAI: While Bangaldesh beat Pakistan by nine runs to register their maiden victory in the ODI World Cup at Hamilton, England went down to South Africa, their third consecutive defeat of the tournament.
Brief scores: Bangladesh 234/7 in 50 ovs (Fargana 71) bt Pakistan 225/9 in 50 ovs (Sidra 104; Fahima 3/38); England 235/9 in 50 ovs (Beaumont 62; Kapp 5/45) lost to SA 236/7 in 49.2 ovs (Wolvaardt 77).

But, Rajeshwari did not give up. She persisted, and once the Covid cases came down, spent time at the National Cricket Academy and by the time the squad was announced for the Australia tour, she was back in the mix. However, comebacks aren't easy.

Rajeshwari went wicketless both in the ODIs and the pink-ball Test despite the long miserly spells. As the tour progressed, she got better, and finished the T20Is with five wickets in two innings. The next stop was New Zealand for the World Cup. And unlike the 2017 edition, this time, there weren't enough spots for two left-arm spinners in the 15-member squad.

When the World Cup squad was announced, Rajeshwari, who plays for Railways, was the first-choice spinner in the squad, with Bisht in the standbys. "Having been through the agony of losing in the 2017 final, this time she is keen on going full-length and winning it for the country this time," Rameshwari said.

TOO CLOSE TO CALL

Manchester United welcome Spanish rivals Atletico Madrid to Old Trafford in the Champions League Round of 16 return leg with the contest evenly balanced. Ajax look to make home advantage count against Benfica. A look at Tuesday's matches...

MANCHESTER UNITED VS ATLETICO (1ST LEG 1-1)

United enter the tie knowing that European glory is their only remaining chance of silverware this season. Star man Cristiano Ronaldo scored a timely hat-trick against Tottenham on Saturday to show what he's capable of. After a subdued display at the Wanda Metropolitano three weeks ago, Ronaldo will be determined to add to his reputation of being a big-game performer and help the team progress. However, it goes without saying Diego Simeone's Atletico will fight tooth and nail to try and put off United and get a result in their favour.

Live on Sony Pictures Networks @ 1:30 AM

AJAX VS BENFICA (1ST LEG 2-2)

Ajax were one of the surprises of the group stage — joining Liverpool and Bayern Munich as the only teams with six wins from six matches — but they twice relinquished leads in a 2-2 draw at Benfica in the first leg. Striker Sebastien Haller, the first player to score in his opening seven CL games and the quickest to 11 goals, will be eager to add to his tally and see his team progress. Benfica will be boosted with the return of Roman Yaremchuk, Nicolas Otamendi and Gilberto, who were nursing injuries and didn't play in the team's Portuguese league fixture on Friday.

SCORING A GOAL

English football club Manchester City FC has collaborated with Bengaluru-based Sisters in Sweat to push more women to take up sport

MONIKA MONALISA

WHEN Sisters in Sweat (SIS), a city-based sports community, was formed around six years ago, the founders wanted to create a space for women to play football. Now, they are making waves internationally. Manchester City FC collaborated with Sisters in Sweat to tell their story, making the city-based community the first and only one from India to have got this opportunity. The 142-year-old English football club not only shared SIS' journey on their Instagram page but have also sponsored recent tournaments.

For co-founder of the community Swetha Subbiah, the acknowledgement means a great deal since they are aiming to make sport more accessible to women. "It feels surreal that our story has been featured on the Man City social media page. We never imagined this when we started out. I am extremely grateful for the way things have panned out," says an excited Subbiah, adding that they also shared the story of another member of the community and how SIS has had an impact on her.

Manchester City is one of the pioneers in identifying that women's sports gets far less attention than men's. Earlier, they used separate Instagram accounts for the men's and women's teams but around six years ago, they decided to make it a level-playing field — at least on social media — and began using one single account to promote the sport.

"Post that, they launched the 'Same Goals' campaign to promote equality in sport. Soon after, they went around the world to identify communities working towards similar goals. "And this year, they identified SIS in India. They wanted to collaborate with us because our work was in line with their 'Same Goals' campaign," says Subbiah, adding that as part of the collaboration, they have also sponsored a tournament for them.

Subbiah recalls growing up in Bengaluru where football was not even an option for women in sports. "Being a contact sport, football was something many stayed away from. But we feel we have managed to provide a space for women where they can feel comfortable to play a sport like this," she says.

They've received validation for their work through participants and their families. Subbiah tells us of an incident when a young boy asked his mother — a member of SIS — a thought-provoking question. "When the Karnataka women's league was happening, she took her son to watch the game as well. And her son asked her, "Do boys also play football?". It was such a powerful statement to make because her little boy assumed that football was a game for girls" says Subbiah.

Ex-hotelier and retail specialist Tusharika Goswami introduces to the world Himachal Pradesh's beauty through her enterprise

MOUNTAIN GOODNESS FROM 11,980 FEET

ASLAM GAFOOR

(The writer is a Bengaluru-based hospitality professional, food lover and travel enthusiaist)

BENGALURU-based Tusharika Goswami was keen to showcase her home state Himachal Pradesh's local produce, fabrics and culture while providing a national platform which empowers local artisans, especially the women folk. This thought led her to establish Karze, a lifestyle brand that brings the best of food, fashion, wellness and home decor from every corner of the mountainous region.

An ex-hotelier and retail specialist, it was always Goswami's dream to return to her roots and introduce to the world her state's beauty and goodness. Himachal is gifted with an abundance of natural products which can now be sourced online from the comfort of your home through Goswami's entrepreneurial venture Karze.

Jams, spreads and chutneys made from seasonal fresh fruits such as green apples, black cherry and pears, Lal Chawal, a rare variety of nutritious red rice, Kinnauri Rajma, saffron, Kagzi Badam, and Akhrot are some of the products sourced under the food section. In textiles, Karze offers timeless handloom clothing and home décor items such as hand-embroidered Pashmina shawls and stoles, Himachali topi, traditional pulla footwear, bamboo baskets and wood carved Kath-Kuni architecture showpieces. On the wellness front. Karze lists Gutti ka Tel, Himalayan Yew Tea and pure Wildflower Honey among other local produce.

Hailing from the town of Rampur Bushahr, Goswami has teamed up with local women, artisans and farmers ensuring they get a direct platform to not only showcase their talent and sustainable produce but also get fair dues by eliminating the middleman. In Goswami's words, "Karze came into being with the idea to not only give the world, natural, pure and authentic mountain goodness of what Himachal Pradesh has to offer, but also to bring the people of the state, and its women together and empower them."

Check out the website of Karze for further details.

Pet parents are adopting human diets for their furry friends, which has health experts concerned

PET PROJECT

ANILA KURIAN

IS there anyone who hasn't tried a diet fad in Bengaluru? Intermittent fasting, paleo, vegan, gluten-free, vegetarian and vegan...the list goes on. But what's interesting is that in recent times, some pet parents are putting their furry friends on the same diet as theirs.

However, vets seem to be concerned that pets are not getting the right amount of nutrition they require.

Anand Vishwanath, the founder of Anvis Inc, a platform connecting pet parents to verified pet professionals, says putting dogs on such a diet can alter their behaviour.

"One of the first things we do when pet parents come to us is to check the pet's diet and analyse his/her health. We often notice that a change in their meals helps improve their behaviour as well," explains Vishwanath, who points out that the pets are already at an escalated level when they are approached.

Sundeep Dhar, a professional pet nutritionist and the founder of Canine Craving, a food company providing healthy dietary options for pets, says animals are instinctively carnivorous.

"Honestly, when I was growing up and we fed the street dogs, we used to give them the usual dal, rice, cooked vegetables and so on, and never found much of a difference. Having said that, over time, we've noticed that due to the many changes the planet has gone through, their life span has also reduced. So, it's safe to say that while these diets might be good for them temporarily, it's not advised as a long-term solution," says Dhar, who also runs the company with wife Swagata.

While he's completely in favour of veganism, he says it's not a lifestyle pets can adopt.

"No matter how many supplements you try to give them, you are essentially depriving them of their actual eating habits and setting them up for a tiring future," he says.

However, web developer Prajwal Kumar disagrees. "All the dogs I've raised growing up have been vegetarian as I am one too. They never made a fuss...neither have we noticed anything wrong with their lifestyle."

> I debated about putting my dog on a vegetarian diet. But after doing a lot of research, I realised that it wasn't the wisest option
> – Suhasini Viswanathan, nutritionist

Suhasini Viswanathan, chief nutritionist at Qua Nutrition Clinics, follows a vegetarian lifestyle. She has a one-year-old rescue dog whom she considered putting on a vegetarian lifestyle too.

"I debated about it a lot and even wanted to put my dog on the same diet. But after doing a lot of research and speaking to people about it, I realised that it wasn't the wisest option. Doctors recommend putting them on a plant-based diet if they are sick, just a temporary solution, but it can't be a full-fledged diet they can be on," she explains.

JUST A SMELL TO TAKE YOU BACK TO LOST MEMORIES

ILLUSTRATION | SOURAV ROY

VERY often, a faint smell or flavour of something you eat makes an instant connection with a long lost memory, probably of childhood, or an incident that may be linked with that particular smell or flavour.

Recently, the smell of olive oil triggered an old memory — a very old memory of a time when I was just two years old, of a place where my maternal grandparents lived. The recall was so overpowering that I felt emotionally overwhelmed and compelled to physically go and check out that place.

Walking on 8th Main Road in Malleswaram between the 11th Cross and 15th Cross, there are just two properties that have survived over the decades. One is the bungalow of Sir CV Raman, who won the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1930, and the other is what once used to be 'Mill Quarters', which has now been taken over by the National Textile Corporation, and named 'NTC House'.

It was here, the Mill Quarters, where my grandparents lived back in 1968. My grandfather was an advocate for a well-known textile mill back then, and was allotted the quarters on the ground floor. The rear of the quarters faced the railway tracks, some 200 metres away, very close to Malleswaram Railway Station.

The daily morning routine my grandmother followed was to give me an olive oil body massage before bathing me. But being a restless child, she had to keep me engaged to ensure I remained still. She managed it by convincing me that if I remained still, standing on the verandah wall and gripping the grill that covered it, I would receive a magic gift in the form of a steam engine rolling into the station. The fact that there were several steam engines — with the typical hissing and chugging noises they made — routinely coming and going at specific times of the day, was lost on a two-year-old me, and I was convinced that my grandmother had some divine connection which ensured that if I stayed still during the massage, Providence gifted me the sightings of these steam engines.

One of the few surviving old buildings in Malleswaram where the writer's grandparents lived in the '60s

The massage routine and the excitement of waiting for a steam engine-powered train coming that way are my earliest memories.

So, recently, when I was at a provision store to buy daily needs, a chance spilling of olive oil by a customer brought these memories rushing back.

In the scientific world, this linking of sensory stimulus with memories is referred to as the Proust Phenomenon, describing it as senses playing the role of doorways to lost memories. It is named after Marcel Proust, the French writer who romanticised memories evoked by the smell of a madeleine biscuit after soaking in tea, in his novel, A la recherche du temps perdu (In Search of Lost Time).

Scientifically explained, the sensory stimulus of smell evoking lost memories happens as the olfactory system — the structure that serves the sense of smell — in the nose is directly connected to the amygdala (responsible for processing emotion) and the hippocampus (linked to memory and cognition), both located at the base of the brain. According to neuroscientists, it is this connection which explains how the brain learns to associate smells with certain emotional memories.

It led Proust to write in Remembrance of Things Past: "But when, from a long distant past, nothing subsists, the smell and taste of things remain, poised a long time, like souls, ready to remind us, waiting and hoping for their moment, amid ruins of all the rest, and bear unfaltering, in the tiny and almost impalpable drop of their essence, the vast structure of recollection."
